

WILL MOURNS FOR FRIEND, MORROW, HEADED FOR SENATE

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec.
11.—When Mr. Morrow went to Mexico just two years ago, every paper touted his future, and were even fearful for his life. Now he is going to the senate and nobody offers one word of warning.

The worst that can happen in Mexico is you can be shot. But the exact day of your passing from public life is known to all. But in the senate (if you are not lucky) you are continually passing to the cemetery with not even your own family knowing the exact date of your demise.

Of course I can understand his alibi will be, "It was either return to Wall Street or the senate, and I picked the lesser of the two evils."

One of his sad constituents.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

THE TIME IS GROWING SHORT-ER—DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOP-PING IN NEW CASTLE!

Pa Newc has a message this morning from a resident of West Washington street, who suggests that the New Castle streets be given a thorough scrubbing before the convention this month. And Pa Newc heartily seconds the motion. There is nothing that gives an impression of a city like clean streets.

Yes, and while we are on this subject, there are a lot of lights around the city, electric signs, ornamental lights, etc., that need a cleaning or some attention. New Castle wants to have its best foot forward when the visitors arrive, and there are a lot of minor things that contribute a lot to the general effect.

The Neshamock seems to have benefitted considerably by the dam removal work that is already completed. The stream is running swiftly through the centre of the city, where it formerly was rather sluggish because of the backwater from the dam.

Under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Code, 1930 automobile license plates are legal for use on and after Dec. 15, next Sunday. The rush for tags will begin in earnest at Harrison twenty-four hours thereafter, the sight of new tags operating as a reminder to hundreds of thousands of motor car owners that the beginning of a new year is near. The highest tag in the 1930 series is 99999, a plate there and there are inches shorter than the high tag for 1929, which is 99999. Hereafter no Pennsylvania plate will bear more than five characters.

Deer hunters are getting in their last licks this week, the season coming to a close on Saturday. This year's season was rather curtailed, opening and closing on Sunday. However, deer hunters state that the hunting is poor after the first few days as the animals become pretty wild after being shot at a few times.

New Castle is going to blaze forth with Christmas spirit on Friday evening when the festoon lighting which is being put in place in the business district will be turned on. The annual Christmas rush will be on a full force from that time on and by the way, Christmas is but two weeks away.

A lady, driving sedan about 11 o'clock last night passed on left side Highland car stopped at red light and but hit two people crossing the street.
One day the lady driver might try trysts of this kind to often and there might be some serious results.

Two of the members of The News' editorial force, are numbered among victims of the grip in this locality, today, and are confined to their homes.

Some of the odd license plate number arrangements are beginning to come into the office of the New Castle Motor club. Through the service of B. N. Handon, manager of the club a number of motorists have gotten their plates. One series he has secured reads 1-R-29. The listings on

REVOLT AT AUBURN

New Wilmington Man Is Fatally Hurt In Auto Crash

Mystery Crash Claims Life Of S. P. Penberthy

Well Known Citizen Found Beneath Wrecked Car On New Wilmington
Road

CAR HAD STRUCK
SMALL CULVERT

Had Left Universal Sales Company Office About 11 O'Clock For Home

Sankey P. Penberthy, aged 58, of New Wilmington, treasurer of the Universal Sales Company of Croton avenue, this city, and one of the best known citizens of Lawrence county, was fatally injured about midnight when his auto struck a culvert on the New Castle-New Wilmington road near Walmo. Mr. Penberthy died about 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mr. Penberthy had been at his place of business on Croton avenue during the day, and as there was considerable business to attend to worked until about 11 o'clock last night.
He then started home alone in his car.

Find Car Overturned
Shortly after midnight Corporal
Paul and Private Watson received a call from someone that there was a wreck on the New Wilmington road.
They rushed out and found an overturned car in the ditch in the little hollow, just beyond Walmo. Underneath the car, which had been badly wrecked by a collision with the abutment wing, they found Mr. Penberthy.

Arrangements Completed For Light Program

Mayor Gillespie Will Turn On Christmas Lighting System Friday Evening

CHOIRS TO SING CHRISTMAS MUSIC

All arrangements have been completed for the program to be carried out Friday evening in connection with the turning on of the lights in the festoon lighting system which is now being erected in the downtown business section.

Promptly at 7:30 Mayor W. H.
Gillespie will throw the switch, illuminating the system of lights, which will extend from the Diamond to the East Washington street bridge.
At the same time the merchants of this section will unveil their Christmas windows, and bands starting from various points near the downtown, will march to the diamond, where a formal program will be carried out.

The fire whistle will be blown, announcing the start of the program to the citizens of the city.
At the diamond, Rev. C. B. Winger will deliver the invocation, following which a musical program will be carried out. The children from the Margaret Henry Home will sing,
"Hark, Hark, the Angels." The Boy's choir from St. Mary's church under the direction of Mr. Winger will also render a number of selections. Between the singing, there will be selections by the bands. The Children's Choir of St. Philip's and St. James' church will also sing.
Four bands have already been secured for the event.
The program is under the direction of the Woman's Club who have sponsored the Christmas lighting movement here. They are planning on a much more extensive program on Christmas eve at the Diamond.
Mrs. R. G. Maxwell will be in charge of this latter program.
In connection with the unveiling of the Christmas windows by the merchants, the Chamber of Commerce has announced a prize of $25 for the best decorated window.

TEACHER MURDERED

Rockford, Ill., police are mystified

Situation Tense In Illinois Coal Field, Reported

Strike Initiated By National Miners' Union Spreading To All Coal Belt

WILL DEPUTIZE ADDITIONAL MEN

Two Union Leaders Arrested In Attempt To Spread Strike Propaganda

(International News Service)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 11.—With the strike initiated by the National Miners' union at Taylorville, spreading to other parts of the Illinois coal belt, the situation today was described as tense.

Sangamon county officers are preparing to deputize additional men to cooperate with the 500 National Guardians already in the territory.
The men, armed with machine guns, and with bayonets fixed, patrolled the Taylorville area all day yesterday, prepared to subdue any outbreak of violence. Fifty striking miners and a number of women staged a demonstration yesterday as non-strikers attempted to go into the pits.

Two Leaders Arrested
Two union leaders were arrested last night as they led a group which sought to win the sympathy of and cause a strike among the workers at the Capitol pits, mines located within the Springfield city limits.

The men arrested are Roy Jones, secretary of the local district branch of the National Miners' Union of America, and Clarence Babb, an organizer.

Jones' following was dispersed by city police without violence on the part of the workers. The police rushed the group and dispersed it hurriedly.

Reinforcements of troops as well as deputized townsmen were thrown about the Peabody mines at Taylorville. All units of the coal company have been shut down.

Raccoon Takes Refuge In Coffin, Lands In Zoo
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Workmen noisily knocking packing cases off copper coffins at the Concourse Funeral home, No. 165 Tremont avenue yesterday afternoon knocked once too often for their own comfort. One of the men slammed a rat in a crate only to find a stumpy bristling "wild animal" meeting the invasion of his quarters with bared teeth.
The animal was a raccoon. It had two desires; to keep its makeshift home intact and to resist possible burial, alive or dead. Keeper Frederick Foggart of the Bronx Zoological park answered a summons for help. He imprisoned the raccoon in a cage after a slight scuffle. Without further application or identification he was accepted as a resident of the Zoo.

Hopeless Love Is Cause Of Tragedy In New York Hotel

Henry Grew Crosby, 32, And Mrs. Josephine Rotch
Bigelow 22, Found Shot To Death

SUICIDE PACT
OFFICIALS SAY

Unable To Sever Marriage
Fetters And Deeply In Love Couple Take Easy Way Out

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Because they could neither dim the flame of their love nor shatter the fetters of marriage which kept them apart, it was believed today, Henry Grew Crosby, 32, and Mrs. Josephine Rotch Bigelow, 22, both of socially prominent Boston families, chose death to the unhappiness of separation.

Crosby, a son of Stephen Van Ren-selaer Crosby of Boston, was a nephew of the late Mr. J. P. Morgan. He was listed in the Boston social directory, and was known as a poet and was a Harvard graduate of the class of 1922. Mrs. Bigelow was the wife of Albert S. Bigelow, a post-graduate student at Harvard, and the daughter of Mrs. Arthur G. Rotch of Boston.

No Explanation Note
When their bodies were found last night in the Hotel Des Artistes apartment of a friend, Stanley Mortimer, Jr., no clues were found to indicate why, as the police believe, Crosby shot Mrs. Bigelow and then turned his weapon upon himself.

There were no notes of explanation.
There was only the tragic picture of a pretty, young woman with a bullet hole in her left temple, her shoulderblade on the left arm of a man who clutched a Belgian 25 automatic pistol in his right hand and had a bullet hole in his right temple.

To Hold Autopsy
But there was to be an autopsy today.
Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, has already described the tragedy as the result of a suicide pact and the police have concurred in this belief.

Crosby with his wife, the former Mrs. Mary Jacob Peabody, daughter of Mrs. William H. Jacob of Watertown, Conn., registered at the Savoy Plaza hotel on November 28. Mrs.
Bigelow, came here Monday, stopping at the Park Avenue home of Miss Margaret Durges, a school chum.
Crosby asked Mortimer for the use of his apartment yesterday afternoon.
When the latter, who had known Crosby for five years both here and in Paris where the dead man maintained a home, was shown the bodies

Believe Grundy Will Be Named Before Evening

Indications Are Governor Fisher Will Act During Afternoon

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—"U. S. senator designate" Joseph R. Grundy.
This title, coveted by many, rejected by few, will be conferred upon the willing or unwilling "Uncle Joe" the "grand daddy of all lobbyists" by Governor Fisher before nightfall today if the seers on Capitol Hill have read aright the political horoscope.

Since the ousting of William S. Vare from his seat in the senate, the name of Grundy has been placed in the front of the list of candidates for Pennsylvania's junior senatorship.
And with the dispatches from Washington telling of the attacks on both Grundy and Fisher in the senate, Grundy paradoxically went far into the lead for the post.

Paradox though it be, it has been demonstrated again and again during the last few days, that every attack launched on Grundy at Washington has strengthened his position with the rank and file of Pennsylvania voters whose cause he championed so ardently at the senate lobby investigating committee hearings.
Whether Grundy would be welcomed with open arms at the senate portals is a matter of considerable doubt. But of his ultimate matriculation, at the age of 66, into the upper house of congress, there is no doubt whatever.

Bandits Confess Robbing Bank

Three Men Captured Follow-

(International News Service)
YORK, Pa., Dec. 11.—Harry M.
Sprague and William B. Ward, both of Baltimore, and John Messersmith, a farmer of Stoverstown, fourteen miles from here, today confessed to the daylight holdup of the Seven Valleys National bank which was looted of $10,000 late yesterday.
All of the loot was recovered.
Sprague and Ward were found hiding in the cellar of Messersmith's home and all three were brought to the York County State Police substation at Hallam. The trio said that Messersmith did not take an active part in the robbery because he was well known in the vicinity but agreed to secret the proceeds of the holdup on his farm.
Walter Rudusill, cashier of the bank who was imprisoned in the vault by the bandits, identified Sprague and Ward as the men who held up the bank.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—President Hoover's somewhat unusual action in appointing Assistant Secretary of State William R. Castle, Jr., as special ambassador to Japan for the period of the London naval conference served to emphasize today that there may be rough waters ahead in the adjustment of the Japanese cruiser ratio.

Castle is an able and experienced diplomat and thoroughly conversant with the controversial naval problems that will arise in London, the mere fact that he is being sent on a journey to Tokio for two months duty is in itself eloquent testimony as to the difficulties presented by Japan's demand for increased cruiser ratio.

Depends Upon Japan
The whole delicate structure of the cruiser relationship between Great Britain and the United States, so carefully worked out by President Hoover and Premier MacDonald, may be said to rest upon the willingness of Japan to go along.

Thus far Japan has not indicated that she cares to complacently accept the ratio assigned to her, which is six to ten, and on the contrary has evidenced her determination to stand out.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—
Armed with only the garbled stories of eye-witnesses and information gleaned from the blackened wreckage, officials of the district attorney's office and the police and fire marshals today renewed their investigation into the fire which swept the Pathe Manhattan Film Studio. The lives of ten and injury to seventeen others was the toll.

None of the officials was able today to definitely fix the cause of the blaze.

Stories from witnesses ranged from the belief a glowing drop of carbon from an arc lamp ignited a velvet curtain to a carelessly tossed cigarette and a short circuit.

Order Not Obeyed
Fire Chief John Kenon declared day whatever the cause, it might not have been so disastrous had an order for a sprinkler system, issued by the fire department last May, been obeyed. Because of a law which makes such protection obligatory only when more than five reels of film are in storage, the order was not fulfilled.

Drop Of Carbon
Investigators expressed the belief the most likely cause of the fire was the possibility of a drop of carbon

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—

Two are reported dead in rioting at Auburn State Prison, the warden and half a dozen guards are being held hostages by fifteen convicts, and national guard troops are on the scene prepared to cope with the emergency, according to information here this afternoon. The troops are standing before the gates of the prison ready for a clash with the insurrectionists, who are armed.

Rejects Compromise
Shortly after noon, Acting Governor Herbert Lehmann had ordered out four units of the national guard, rejected a compromise offer from the convicts who sent word to the State Capital that if the gates of the prison were not thrown open and they be allowed their liberty they would kill the warden, Edgar S. Jennings, as well as the guards, whom they have quartered in the main hall of the prison—near the warden's office.

"There will be no compromise," acting Governor Lehmann replied to the convicts' through an emissary.
Principal Keeper George Dunford and a convict were reported to have been killed. Two shops at the prison had been set afire, according to mes-

I'd like to gather all the kids both

Officer Chases Bootleg Car

Captures Stranger With 20 Gallons Of Moonshine This Afternoon

An Ohio license car, the driver and his cargo of twenty gallons of moonshine liquor were captured shortly before one o'clock today by Motorcycle Officer Ralph Criswell on Water street, near the city comfort station.

The man arrested in charge of and driving the car gave the name of Tom Tuley, and his address as 733 Merrill avenue, Youngstown, Ohio.

He has admitted that the car is his, but claims that the liquor is the property of a man, whom he alleges to know only by the name of Joe.

Tuley claims that this man asked him to bring the liquor to this city, but that he did not know its destination here. He claims to have secured the liquor, which is in four five gallon tin cans from a shanty and to have loaded it on the car himself.

The owner, whom he designates as Joe, he states, piloted him over here. There was also another man in the pilot car.

Officer Criswell was out on State street, when he noticed the two cars come along. His attention was attracted by the action of a man in what he later learned was the pilot car in signalling to the driver of the captured car, when he appeared on the scene.

His suspicions aroused, he turned around and gave chase, following the two cars up State street to Greenwood avenue and down Washington street to the Shenango river bridge. He attempted to catch up with the cars and get them there, but traffic prevented.

He caught up with them at Beaver and down that street to South street. The pilot car continued on Beaver street attempting to draw Criswell after them, but he followed the other car, which turned onto South street and continued over to Water street, where he caught up and stopped and arrested the driver.

The police are investigating the case in the hope of clearing up the ownership.

They also went before the resolutions committee of the congress to tell of the project.

It is understood that Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson plans to attend the congress in behalf of the proposed improvement of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango.

tained his residence, returned late last night he found the door locked. The superintendent of the hotel broke in the door with an axe and the bodies were found.

Was In Good Spirits. Mrs. Bigelow had left the Burgess home yesterday in the best of spirits, according to Ward M. Burgess, father of the dead woman's chum.

Her marriage to Bigelow at Old Lyme, Conn., on June 21, last, was an important, social event. Bigelow played hockey on Harvard's 1928 varsity team and the youthful couple were thought to be ideally happy she made her debut two years ago. When she left Boston, she planned to stop over here a few days before going to Ardmore, Pa., to visit friends.

NAMING OF CASTLE GIVES INDICATION OF TROUBLE IN RATIO

at London for a ratio of seven instead of six.

While the United States alone might be willing to waive the point in Japan's favor, the complications of the Hoover-MacDonald agreement are such that it is not believed Great Britain could waive it without inviting serious trouble with the dominion governments of Australia and New Zealand.

British to Have Most.

As worked out by Mr. Hoover and Mr. MacDonald, the cruiser agreement calls for Great Britain to have a slight superiority in total cruiser tonnage, which is to be offset by the United States having a slight superiority over Great Britain in the 10,000-ton class, newer, faster and more powerful ships. The United States is to have either 18 or 21 ships of this 10,000-ton class, as compared to Britain's 15.

Japan's insistence upon 70 per cent of the American cruiser strength would, if successful, give her 13 or 15 of these cruisers, or what amounts to actual superiority over the British in far eastern waters where Britain has many interests. This would be certain to invite a howl from Australia and New Zealand.

Thus the whole cruiser structure erected by President Hoover and Premier MacDonald after much labor and negotiation, may depend upon the powers' ability to convince Japan that she should be satisfied with the lesser ratio.

To Discuss Problem.

This problem will be discussed here next week with the arrival of Japan's delegates to the London conference. They will be here four days before proceeding on to London.

President Hoover will receive the delegation, headed by former Premier Watsuki soon after its arrival Monday, and on Thursday will entertain for the Japanese at a state dinner.

Meanwhile, before the arrival of the Japanese, the American delegates to the conference are to have a series of meetings here. Ambassador Morrow arrived in Washington from New Jersey. The other delegates, save Ambassador Davies at London and Ambassador Gibson at Brussels, are already here. Secretary of State Stimson, who heads the American delegation, has been studying naval data for weeks, frequently staying away from his office in the department in order to have more time for intensive study.

FIFTEEN CONVICTS HOLD WARDEN AND GUARDS HOSTAGES

being held as a hostage was sent out from the prison through William Sullivan, sergeant of the guards at Auburn. The convicts told Sullivan to immediately communicate with Albany. Sullivan telephoned Dr. Raymond Kleb, Commissioner of Corrections, and appraised him of the situation.

"The prisoners said if they are not let out of the gates and no effort to apprehend them is made they will kill the warden," Sullivan told Dr. Kleb.

Dr. Kleb immediately dashed to the State Capitol building where he conferred with the acting governor.

"I favor ending of troops to the scene at once," said Dr. Kleb. "This is a serious emergency."

Acting Governor Lehman immediately agreed with Dr. Kleb and four units of national guard were ordered to the scene—two from Auburn one from Syracuse and one from Geneva.

At 12:30 this afternoon 120 national guardsmen were reported before the prison gates at Auburn. The gates were wide open. Sixty state troopers were with the guardsmen.

There were 1,497 prisoners inside the gates but only fifteen, so far as known, were taking part in the uprising.

State police have been ordered to enter the prison with drawn guns and shoot every convict who offers resistance in their effort to rescue Jennings.

Tear bombs were sent to the prison from police headquarters at Syracuse. A national guard airplane has been dispatched from Staten Island headquarters. It will stop at the state guard camp at Peekskill, take on a load of tear bombs and proceed to the prison.

Acting Governor Lehman, in rejecting the compromise offer of the convicts, said:

"There can be no compromise because it would mean a breakdown of the entire prison system. I have ordered every authority to take every step necessary to uphold the state's position."

Lieut. John Perry, commanding the state police at the prison, when he received information from Lehman there would be no compromise, sent this word into the convicts holding Jennings:

"We are coming in there in just a little while and we are coming in shooting."

Dr. Kleb was informed that Steve Pawlak who escaped in the Auburn riot last summer and later was captured in Buffalo, is the ring leader of the present riot.

Grizzly Bears Fall On Parlous Times

DENVER, Dec. 11.—Gray grizzlies once kings of all Colorado's wild life, have fallen on parlous days. Only seven or eight of these once numerous animals are alive in the state in their natural, old habits, R. G. Parvin, State Game and Fish Commissioner estimated on receiving a new complaint from a Southern Colorado rancher regarding black bears.

"So few of the big grizzlies are left that they are hardly a serious danger any more," Mr. Parvin said. "A few of these remaining animals have been seen in Dolores county."

We make no attempt to hunt them. The federal government, through the Predatory Animal act takes care of bears and mountain lions in regions where they become dangerous to live stock."

FROM NEWSBOY TO OPERA STAR

JAMES YACULLO Miss EDITH DENANCREDÉ Miss JANE ADDAMS

Received in foreign capitals as "Europe's foremost dancer," Vincenzo Celli, one-time Chicago newsboy, and now primo ballerino of LaScala opera in Milan, has not forgotten old friends and family. He's "back home" temporarily, and is seen above with Miss Jane Addams and Miss Edith Denancrede, mentors of other days who encouraged him on the road to success. Celli, who was born plain James Yacullo, is donating his services to help rebuild Hull House theater where he first won honors.

Northwestern Given $1,000,000 By Deering's

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—A gift of $1,000,000 from the family of the late Charles Deering, was announced today by President Walter Dill Scott of the Northwestern University.

The funds will be used for a library building. Mr. Deering was formerly chairman of the board of directors of the International Harvester Company and a member of a pioneer Chicago family, during his life time he was always a friend of the university. He died in 1927.

The members of his family who made the gift are his widow, Mrs. Marion Whipple Deering of Evansville, a son, Roger, of El Paso, Tex., and his daughter, Mrs. Marion Deering McCormick of Chicago, and Mrs. Barbara Deering Danielson of Boston.

from an arc light igniting the curtain which served as a backdrop for the song and dance scenes which were to be filmed, such a light was located on a platform above the curtain when the fire broke out.

The lighted cigarette theory is being studied despite the testimony of all witnesses so far examined that no one was smoking on the stage when the flames were first noticed.

Another factor which aided the flames in exacting their heavy toll was the admission of studio employees they sought to subdue the flames by their own efforts before sounding an alarm.

It was learned a fire had occurred two weeks ago in another part of the studio when a velvet curtain became ignited by contact with an overheated incandescent lamp. The flames were put out by an electrician.

berthy. He was still alive but unconscious.

They took him to the Jameson Memorial hospital where it was apparent at once that he was badly injured, presumably internally as no bones appeared to be broken. Everything possible was done for him but he passed away early this morning. Coroner J. P. Caldwell who investigated the case was unable to learn the cause of the accident. Penberthy was an experienced driver, having operated an automobile for many years. He may have been blinded by another car or his car may have skidded, as there is a slight curve at the culvert.

Born In County

Mr. Penberthy was born in Neshannock township on November 3rd, 1871. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Penberthy, pioneer residents. In early life he learned the machinist's trade which he followed for a number of years in this city.

For many years he operated a farm on the New Castle-New Wilmington road. Selling the farm he moved to New Castle, and later to New Wilmington.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. James Pitzer of New Wilmington and one son, Henry Richard Penberthy, now a student in the University of California. He is also survived by one brother, Richard Penberthy of Pittsburgh, and one sister, Mrs. Norman Boyd of Neshannock township.

He was a member of the Elks lodge of this city and the United Commercial Travelers. He was widely known both throughout the city and county.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made as it is said to be the intention to postpone the funeral until the arrival of the deceased's son from California.

Funeral services will be held from the family home in Washington Friday at two p. m.

Robert L. Gettes.

Friends at Edenburg received word this morning of the death of Robert L. Gettes, aged 31 in the Youngstown City hospital. Mr. Gettes had been ill about two weeks. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gettes, his mother being a native of Robinson's crossing near Edenburg.

During the World war he was a member of Battery D, Fourth Field Artillery. He was a member of the Presbyterian church. Surviving are a wife and one child, one brother and one sister. Funeral Thursday at 2 p. m. from his late home in Lowellville, Ohio.

Richard Norman Thomas

Richard Norman Thomas, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thomas, 520 Harbor street, died this morning in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Burial was made this afternoon in Graceland cemetery.

The baby was one of a set of twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Monday night.

Time of Funeral

Funeral services of Richard Brown Vernon will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence, 211 Pearson street. The funeral party will then leave for Greenville, where a short service will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Vernon, of Greenville. Interment will be made in Greenville cemetery.

Mr. Vernon was a member of the American Legion and served with the American army in France.

Funeral of Mrs. Cupola

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Elsie Cupola from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Leimbach, 212 Hazelcroft avenue, with Rev. S. L. Maxwell in charge. Pallbearers were J. Russell Craig, J. Weitzell, Mr. Hawthorne, Lyman Hubbard R. Snyder and Joe Snyder. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Funeral of J. E. Whittaker

Funeral services for J. E. Whittaker were held from the family residence 1904 Highland avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, in charge of Rev. H. C. Weaver.

Pallbearers included John Offutt, Carl Paisley, O. N. Fischer, C. H. Hobbins, Norman Clark and H. C. Kanengeiser. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

QUEEN ESTHER CHRISTMAS PARTY

Members of the Queen Esther Auxiliary of the First Methodist church were delightfully entertained last evening in the home of Mrs. J. Hodge, Wallace avenue, when 53 of the members and friends met for the Christmas party.

Miniature Christmas trees, a lighted Star of the East and other decorations suggestive of the Christmas season were used effectively throughout the house. Mrs. R. Snyder had charge of the program and opened it with the singing of Christmas carols, during which time there were no lights but the beams from a lighted Star of the East in the corner of the living room. Mrs. Victor Hoyer gave some Christmas readings which were greatly enjoyed.

At the close of the program a great jingling of bells was heard and Santa Claus appeared and presented each person present with a gift. A barrel of toys was packed to be sent to a children's home.

Delicious refreshments were served with appointments carried out in the Christmas colors. Mrs. J. L. Fink's group were in charge of arrangements and serving.

E. L. T. A. Club

Members of the E. L. T. A. Club were entertained at a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Leon Fink of Boyles avenue. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations, the hostess being assisted in serving by Mrs. Anna McKibben. Mrs. Waddington was a special guest.

The club will hold its annual Christmas party in the Elks Club on Friday, December 13th, with a dinner at 6:30 in the evening.

Evening Party

Mr. and Mrs. David Pitzer entertained informally in their home on Lafayette street Tuesday evening. Two tables of 500 were in play and later dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kennedy, Miss Harriet Biven and Harold L. Ramsey.

ORGAN RECITAL HIGHLY ENJOYED

The organ recital last evening at the First Presbyterian church given by Thomas Webber, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh was a musical event of unusual merit. The large audience present composed of music lovers of this city and surrounding towns including a delegation from Youngstown listened with wrapped attention to the inspiring strains of harmony ranging from the thundering roar of "Toccata from Fifth Symphony" to the delicate whispering melodies of "In the Moonlight."

The masterly manner in which Mr. Webber displayed the possibilities of the organ indicated his skill as an artist and the prolonged applause after each number gave evidence of an appreciative audience.

Mrs. Stambaugh the soprano soloist captured the audience with her charming rendition of "Ave Maria" and the "Message" graciously responding to a persistent encore and was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

The entertainment throughout was an artistic performance of a high order.

ANNUAL DINNER IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Girls employed by the W. J. Offutt Company, had their annual Christmas dinner, and party, Tuesday evening. A delicious menu was served and covers were laid for 30 guests. Christmas novelties were used in decorations.

Five hundred and other games were pastimes of the evening hours, and prizes were won by Mrs. Oscar Benner, and Miss Dorothy Raub. During the evening Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Catherine Bishop, Mrs. Wilkison and Mrs. Oscar Benner.

Sisterhood Lectures

A large audience greeted Mrs. Dorothy Fuldheim when she delivered her second of the series of lectures at Temple Israel Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Temple Israel Sisterhood.

Mrs. Fuldheim lectured on "The Trials of the Hebrews" which took in the happenings from the death of Lincoln to the time of the reconstruction. She told of the conditions existing between the north and south and the many sacrifices that were made to bring about unity.

Two beautiful piano numbers were rendered by Mrs. Emanuel Roman. The next lecture will be at the temple January 14.

A. U. R. Girls

The A. U. R. Missionary society of the Central Presbyterian church held their regular monthly session last evening in the lecture room of the Pennsylvania Power company. Christmas decorations were effectively used.

The program was in charge of Sara Rice. Mrs. Jean Hoagland discussed the home topic and Mrs. L. G. Rude-sill discussed the foreign. Both papers were highly interesting and instructive. Christmas carols were sung led by Mrs. C. M. Propst.

After the business meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Olive McGuire, Misses Sallie Swisher and Gladys Lewis.

B. B. Club

Ten members of the B. B. club attended the regular meeting, in the home of Mrs. Floyd McClelland, Dewey avenue, Tuesday evening, with Miss Nettie McCommons as a special guest. Fancy work, and music were the chief pastimes.

Later the hostess, served dainty refreshments, assisted by her daughter Edna.

Plans were made for the Christmas party December 17, in the home of Mrs. J. S. Powell, Jefferson street. December 31, Mrs. Charles Siegfried, county line street, will be hostess.

Dinner for Guests

DECEMBER MEETING FOR COLLEGE CLUB

Attractive holiday suggestions were used in decoration when members of the College club had their Christmas party Tuesday evening.

Two plays featured the evening's entertainment, and the committee included Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Mrs. Dean Staley, Miss Frances McClaren, and Miss Mary Riffer.

The first play, "The Two of Them" by James Barry, was portrayed by the Misses Elizabeth Park, and Lois Martin, with the introduction by Miss Marjorie Rhodes.

Miss Frances McClaren gave the introduction for the second play which was entitled "Night Before Christmas." Those taking part included Miss Pauline Gilkey, Mrs. Dean Staley, Mrs. Helen Brown, Miss Charlotte Taylor, Miss Harriet Ewing, Miss Grace Jones, Miss Helen McConahy, and Little Miss Betty Brown.

Tempting refreshments were served after which white elephant gifts were exchanged.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. W. D. Cleland, Mrs. G. L. Burton, Miss Helen Allison, and Miss Eleanor Barnes.

Cooper-Davis

Miss Ruth Ida Cooper of Youngstown, O., became the bride of George J. Davis of 718 South Ray street, this city, at a beautiful wedding in the First Baptist Temple at Youngstown Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Frank G. Sayers officiated with the ring ceremony.

Many New Castle guests were present at the wedding, with guests from Aliquippa, Cleveland and Youngstown.

Following the wedding ceremony friends and relatives were present at a nicely appointed wedding dinner in the bride's home.

Mr. Davis is employed with the Pennsylvania railroad.

The young couple left Tuesday night for a trip through the southern states, down to the Gulf of Mexico. They will be at home to their friends the first of the year at 405 Florence avenue, this city.

Tent Elects Officers

The Eliza Wines McBride Tent No. 20 of the Daughters of Union Veterans met in regular session Tuesday evening in the city building.

Officers for the coming year were elected and included: President Mrs. Maude Fisher; senior vice, Mrs. Lucy Pettitt; junior vice, Mrs. Pearl Cook; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Kurtz; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Flora Sowash; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Boak; members of council Mrs. Anna Ray, No. 1, Mrs. Sara Pray, No. 2 and Mrs. Margaret Hammond, No. 3.

What is the news? There is a good deal.
 The storm continues to rage off the British coast, 100 lives lost, six more vessels foundered, 50 ships in distress. England has been cut off from France, too rough on the water, too rough in the air.
 The British and French will think harder than ever about a tunnel under the channel.

The Pope finds at this Christmas season, cause for rejoicing. A semi-official message from the Vatican reports that in the course of a solemn ceremony, approving the beautification of 136 English martyrs the Pope said "Protestantism is getting more and more exhausted until it has reached the point where its own very sterility is inspiring many souls with a nostalgia for Catholicism."

Pope Plus remarked that the church was emerging triumphant from the duel with the state, referring to the recent agreement with Italy and added "thus confronting Protestantism today Catholicism breathes in a free atmosphere while Protestantism goes on ever wearing itself out."

The Senate is to be heard from but probably it will agree with Mr. McFadden and the European powers that Americans are not able to decide important questions for themselves and need a little help from Europe. Not one of the senators or any other that helps to put the United States in the power of a hostile European court would think of referring his own private affairs to a court of European judges hostile to him.

He would say "No, an American court is good enough for me." The United States Supreme court ought to be good enough for the United States.

Everybody knew that the speakeasy was more powerful than prohibition laws.

Some will learn with surprise that speakeasies are more powerful than John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Mr. Rockefeller assembled some blocks in New York intending to build a civic and commercial center around a fine opera house.

Speakeasies have some subleases on the land in the heart of New York very valuable and the speakeasy proprietors will not get out, won't consider selling of their leases.

Thus the speakeasies will remain and the opera house will not be built.

Washington reports that "the administration" which means President Hoover, is anxious to have Calvin Coolidge elected senator from Massachusetts.

Mr. Coolidge would render distinguished service in the Senate. It would be hard for any senator to talk more than two hours before that cold blue New England eye and hard for any senators to spend millions recklessly.

But Senator Coolidge like the young gentleman "Excelsior" doesn't believe in turning back. He and Mrs. Coolidge fixed the White House all over, cedar closets and everything. When President Hoover is through with it Mr. Coolidge it is said would like to return to the "old home."

One of the things we are never going to be a party to is jumping from an airplane and trusting our hide to the tender mercies of a parachute. A parachute will have to fall on us before we would even touch it.

You never can tell how rich people are by the kind of automobiles they drive. Most every make of car can now be bought on time by some means or other.

The Work That Tires You Most Is The Work You Still Have To Do.

One of America's most sympathetic observers of wild life recently made comparison of the way men and animals react to an unexpected threat.

A deer frightened by some alien sound while walking through a forest will flash away as though pursued by demons, but will come to a full stop three hundred yards from the place of danger and calmly continue its grazing.

A man thus terrified would continue to run while breath remained in him, and his frenzied imagination would urge ever greater speed to escape the terrors that followed at his heels.

Wild creatures are realists. They accept life as it is and their spirits are at peace. They never have "nervous breakdowns."

Critics of our times see a threat of destruction in the "mad pace" of modern life, and weary workers live in dread of collapse, but it isn't the pace that kills. The harm is done by imagination.

It has been demonstrated that fatigue is evidence of accumulated pain, and that congenial tasks cause less fatigue than tasks that are resisted.

The attitude of the mind has much to do with labor's effect on the body. And as a man can refresh himself by playing golf, while a similar expenditure of energy in delivering packages would leave him exhausted, so one can rejoice in the speed of his car and come to the end of a long drive without weariness, while another, who drives fearfully and in constant excitement, will reach his destination completely exhausted.

There is no harm in quick motion or fast movement. Wild creatures move with incredible swiftness and relax completely a moment later.

Men who labor at a congenial task delight in the skill that enables them to move quickly and unerringly. Then pleasure in swift precision does them no injury.

The one who tries quickly and breaks soon is the "fussy" incompetent who wastes motions, consciously drives himself in the foolish belief that anxiety can serve in place of skill, and exhausts his mind and body in a treadmill frenzy that gets him nowhere.

There is pleasure and profit in speed that is a happy exercise of skill. There is certain disaster if the pace is kept unwillingly, or in a frenzy of excitement, or under the lash of an anxious mind.

Hoover's Message Declared Constructive, Sound, Unexciting

Clear Discussion Of Problems Before Government And Indications Of Serious Purpose Found In Document Although Certain Portions Criticised

A statement by the NEW YORK SUN that "President Hoover's first constitutional message to congress is not exciting," is reflected in many of the comments on the document throughout the country. Its constructive character is recognized and the serious purpose of the executive in approaching present problems is observed, but there are, of course, criticisms as well. But, in the opinion of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, and similarly reflected by other papers, "It is apparent that Mr. Hoover regards the message as preliminary to a number of special communications to congress on concrete problems of importance, such as adherence to the world court, internal waterway development, prohibition and reorganization of the mechanism of Federal administration."

While the seriousness of the problems discussed is not minimized, the message throughout is toned with optimism," says the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, while the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL, calling it "sound and sensible," expresses the view that "at no stage of the game will Hoover ever tell congress what it 'should do' and the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL offers the comment: "He has presented a well-worked-out program without saying anything needlessly to arouse hostility." The Tribune-Capital advises further: "As our national interests grow, and everything becomes more complicated, we cannot permit congress to ignore or flaunt the president. It will be fortunate if congress, without any more dilly-dallying, takes the president's program as it is outlined and works out the details with promptness."

With a tribute to his "directness and clarity," the SYRACUSE HERALD adds that "the characteristically cautious and reserved in his treatment of political subjects of a controversial nature." Perhaps it is this characteristic which causes the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS, although admitting the "scope and detail with which he dealt with the administrative phases of government," to declare that "the technique of political leadership is a presidential art by itself, and an art which President Hoover has not yet summoned to the assistance of his administrative abilities."

Taking up the president's statement that "there is a fundamental conflict between the interests of the farmer and the worker," the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD replies: "If there were a fair and square deal between the east on the one hand and the west on the other—between industry and agriculture—a stable and honest national prosperity that no Wall Street breeze could shake, would be permanently assured. And until this is done, not all the pleas of President Hoover, or of all his party's leaders combined, will suffice to put down the unfortunate and highly damaging sectional conflict that menaces, not alone the solidarity of the party, but the solidarity and progress of the republic."

"The great opportunity was missed," according to the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH, "by Mr. Hoover's failure to point the way toward same tariff legislation and warring the hypocrisy and Fabian sophistry out of the impossible prohibition adventure. Following that thought, the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT criticizes "denouncing men as enemies of society," in this connection but admits that "he does arouse our interest when he talks of a great building program in which all forces will cooperate. It is in that part of the message that we see the real man, Hoover, and for him and his efforts we have nothing but the highest praise."

The KANSAS CITY TIMES describes the message as "worthy of study by the public generally as a chart of government activities that can be employed for the common good," while its constructive character is lauded by the MADISON WISCONSIN STATE JOURNAL, the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL and the ANNISTON, ALA. STAR. It is "an admirable document," in the judgment of the CHATTANOOGA TIMES; is "the message of a man who cannot sit still and merely report on the state of the Union, when opportunities for improving the state of the Union are all about him," as viewed by the GRAND RAPIDS PRESS; and reveals the idealist to the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL.

The conviction that the message "will have a good effect on the state of the nation," is voiced by the LOUISVILLE TIMES, and that paper adds: "The president shows himself the dignified, sensible business man. He speaks with a force that will inspire the American spirit of confidence." The NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE says: "So far as the Mississippi valley is concerned, the message's outstanding feature is its urgent plea for enlarged outlay upon and prompt completion of the Mississippi system of waterways and the flood-control program. Congress should adopt these recommendations, and the plea for income-tax reduction, without division and without delay."

"It is a good deal like Mr. Hoover," suggests the BALTIMORE SUN. "In big things he is sure-footed where it is safe to be sure-footed; he is tentative where it is safer, or seems safer at the moment, to be tentative. In smaller things he is at one with the mind of the upper middle class, neither reactionary nor radical, but anxious to do the right thing in a careful way."

"The message is sound enough," avers the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, "presents few points for controversy and is businesslike and sensible in form. It puts the whole situation in the hands of congress and attempts to drive."

"President Hoover gave the nation a message that is high in courage, faith and cheer," says the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, which adds: "It is an able analysis of the state of the Union and world relations, by a master in the art of analysis. Critics will find it difficult to discover a false note in this message of leadership and reassurance on the economic situation, at a time when it is important that there be no boat rocking." Declaring that the president "fulfills expectations in devoting major attention to matters of business," the TULSA WORLD expresses the opinion that "he plainly intimates that congress is too much engrossed in politics to give proper attention to the economic side of government."

Concluding that the executive "sounds an ominous warning" of the "evil" that would be involved if the London naval conference were to fail, the MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL continues: "A brighter side of the picture is revealed in the conciliatory tone running through the message. He sincerely desires to put international relations on such a basis that the American people can with confidence scale down their expenditures for war."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THEY PAY AND PAY

General Edward Martin, Pennsylvania State Treasurer, inquiring into the State's resources of revenue, discovered that of the many transportation companies operating in Pennsylvania, the Erie alone pays an annuity for a right of way.

Since 1846 what was originally the "New York and Erie Railroad Company," but which is now known as the Erie Railroad, has paid over $800,000 to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the privilege of crossing the northeastern corner of the State. Under the terms of the act granting the company right-of-way through Pennsylvania, it is required each January to pay $10,000, and its neglect or refusal to pay this sum would result in forfeiture of rights and privileges granted under the Act of March 26, 1846.

From 1846 until 1900 the annual payment of $10,000 went into the general fund of the State Treasury, but beginning with 1900 the sum has been prorated between Pike and Susquehanna counties, through which the railroad passes, in proportion to the assessed value of real estate in each. In 1929 Pike County received $2,518.20 and Susquehanna $7,481.80. This proration is ordered by the Act of May 11, 1899.

Pennsylvania's original franchise to the New York and Erie was granted under the Act of 1841. The company operated operating only in New York State, but encountering in Broome County a mountain of such magnitude as to entail huge expense in surmounting or tunneling it, the corporation determined to change the route and traverse part of Pennsylvania. The Act authorizing this construction was signed by Governor Porter, February 16, 1841. The supplement requiring the $10,000 annuity was enacted five years later, and this act contained the additional provision that, despite the lump-sum payment, stock of the company to an amount equal to the costs of construction of that part of the road situated in Pennsylvania should be subject to taxation by this Commonwealth in the same manner and at the same rate as other similar property.

Records unearthed by Treasurer Martin show that a long time ago the railroad company did not trust the mailing nor use checks or drafts in making its annual payment, so great was its fear that an accident might cause forfeiture of its rights. Each January it sent a special messenger to Harrisburg, who carried $10,000 in legal tender and insisted upon paying it in person to the State Treasurer, receiving the latter's personal receipt. The practice of sending messengers to Harrisburg, the taxes, and we continued in this particular instance, many railroad corporations send attorneys to the Treasury annually with tax payments. Among the list are railroad corporations whose attorneys carry checks for $1,000,000 or more.

Bible Thought For Today

Saving Others—They reviled him, saying, If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross. He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him; for he said, I am the Son of God.—Matthew 27:39-43

FRIENDSHIP

One never knows until disaster strikes Just what in him another loves and likes.
 Or is the thing called friendship false or true.
 Or built on love or hopes which men pursue.
 Hundreds had praised him in his happier days
 Now he has learned how shallow was their praise.
 Stripped of his power, all friendship they refuse
 Who sought or feared the power which he could use.
 Those whom he favored, coldly past him go
 Since now he has no favor to bestow.
 Those who love riches, him no longer love.
 He has no fortune now worth thinking of.
 But of the many came to him a few
 Who saw in him the same old friend they knew.
 The man they'd loved, the man is other days
 Who had been quick to smooth their troubled ways.
 The self-same kindly spirit, and they stared Trying their best to show how much they cared.
 With tear-filled eyes and voices strangely gruff
 They said to him: "Here, take this yellow stuff
 And use it. It is all we have, old friend."
 To show that we are with you to the end."
 And that is friendship—rarer far than gold.
 The one thing man can own that can't be sold.

School Contest At East Brook

First Of Series Of Contests For County Schools Is Conducted

Eastbrook High was the scene on Tuesday evening of one of the series of competitions along certain lines of endeavor that are being conducted by high schools of Lawrence county.

The competitions last night were in the presentation of readings and the playing of a cornet. Schools participating in the competition were Union,
New Wilmington, Bessemer, Shenango, Mt. Jackson and Eastbrook.

There was a fair attendance of interested spectators. The next of these competitions will be held at Union High on the evening of January 14, when there will be contests of Trombone players and in vocal solos for girls.

In the cornet contest last night,
Henry Goughier of Mt. Jackson High was declared the winner. Nick Tren-tin of Bessemer High finished second and Helen Cotton of Shenango High, third. The judge in this competition was Eldon Murray of the School of Music at Westminster college.

In the reading contest, Miss Eleanor Heckart of Union High, won first place. The standing of the representatives of other schools was as follows: Margaret Robinson of New Wilmington High, second; Eleanor Throop of Bessemer High, third; Martha Swisher, Shenango High, fourth; Wilda Fullerton of Mt. Jackson High, fifth; Eddie Johnson, Eastbrook High, sixth. The judge in this contest was A. T. Cordray of the Public Speaking department of Westminster college.

Bring Six Deer From Elk County

Hunting Party Has Fine Luck In Trip To Medix
Run

A hunting party consisting of Jack Davis, George Kinsey, Lusk Barber and Joe Jones of Portersville and Geo.
Roof and Guy Cooper of New Castle, have returned home from Medix Run, Elk county, Pa., with six as fine specimens of the Royal Buck as have been gathered in by any group of hunters. There were five eight point bucks and one six point buck in the bunch. The latter was the largest of the entire group.

No happier gang has yet been seen returning and the party shook hands with a vow to repeat next year. The members of the party saw hundreds of deer but the great trouble of the hunters was to separate the bucks from the large droves of does that inhabit the Medix Run section of the great deer country.

George Roof had the honor of getting the largest deer, killing it. The animal was about 400 yards away, George Kinsey also distinguished himself by making a long kill.

It is hoped that the boys don't get too much deer meat and get sick and all united in wishing the other boys of this section the best of luck.

Civil War Seeths Within China, May Envelop Shanghai

Rifle Fire Has Broken Out In Chapei District Of Shanghai
According To Report

By ALFRED MEYER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
SHANGHAI, Dec. 11—Rifle fire broke out in the Chapei district of Shanghai today, bringing home to residents of the internationale settlement, in case previous measures such as the establishment of martial law had failed to do so, that China is seething with civil war which may envelop this chief port of China.

The rapid discharge of firearms immediately aroused fears that a rebellion among the nationalist troops stationed on the outskirts of the city had started.

Later, however, it was ascertained that the gendarmes protecting the internationale settlement has fired over the heads of crowds of Chinese who attempted to swarm across the boundary into the internationale settlement from the Chapei district for greater protection.

Bruner Recovers From Collapse At News Of Dismissal

Dr. Samuel E. Bruner, Agricultural Department Official Slightly Improved

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—Dr. Samuel E. Bruner, former chief of the tuberculosis eradication division of the bureau of animal industry in the department of agriculture, was reported slightly improved today following his collapse last night when informed that Governor John S. Fisher had ordered his dismissal.

Bruner's discharge comes as an aftermath of the $129,000 fraud perpetrated upon the state by two local men who forged and cashed vouchers for authorized cattle destruction.

The dismissed chief, who was in charge of the records from which the vouchers were drawn, was not charged with fraud and state officials made it plain that the former division head was in no wise guilty of complicity in the frauds but that he had been guilty of "an egregious error" in not instituting an investigation.

The formal announcement from the governor follows:

"The dismissal of Dr. S. E. Bruner is recommended first, because he did not report immediately to his superior, Dr. T. E. Munn, when six claims for indemnity without supporting records were brought to his attention the latter part of June, 1928, by Supervising Clerk J. P. Middour. Second, because he did not institute immediately a searching, tireless and thorough investigation to learn whether or not these claims were valid or fraudulent. His failure in these particulars evidences a lack of alertness and an absence of those administrative qualities essential to one charged with responsibility of disbursements of public monies."

Punxsutawney Woman Suing For $50,000

Woman Claims Beaver Falls Man Performed Operation Upon Her And Left Her Crippled

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—A suit asking $50,000 damages from Allen B. Ross of Beaver Falls today had been filed here in common pleas court by Garnet Parsons of Punxsutawney, who charges that she suffered permanent injuries as the result of naturopathic treatment and an operation performed by Ross.

The bill of complaint states that Miss Parsons declares she was suffering from sciatica neuritis and went to Ross for treatment. Without the use of X-ray, and using only naturopathic treatment, he is said to have diagnosed her case as being caused by a dislocated pelvis and recommended that an operation be performed, promising to cure her in from four to five days.

She submitted to the operation in October, 1928, the suit states, and that instead of being cured her condition became worse and as the result of Ross's treatment her left leg is shorter than the right and she is permanently confined to her home.

City Council Has Informal Session

City council met today informally or rather as a committee of the whole and acted upon an accumulation of the last year in that committee, disposing of matters that had been hanging fire for some time.

While this was going on Mayor-elect William Lewis and councilmen-elect of Beaver Falls which community becomes a third-class city the first of the year, sat in on the proceedings, securing some pointers that will help them when they start in.

Ballet Girls Who Barely Missed Death In Disastrous Film Studio Fire

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—These members of the ballet of the talking picture, "Black and White Revue," in process of being made, barely missed death in the roaring furnace which resulted when a small explosion set the establishment on fire. Eleven deaths are reported and many others who leaped from upper floors, their clothing in flames, are not expected to survive.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Squad of firemen bearing stretcher from burning building on which lies the body of one of the victims of the disastrous fire in which 11 lives were lost. The small explosion which kindled the fire was barely noticed and it was not until a cloud of dense smoke swept across the studio floor in the midst of the filming of the "Black and White Revue" that the tragedy was realized. Ballet girls attired in flimsy costumes leaped from upper windows, their clothes ablaze, while others perished before they could reach the exits.

Man Is Struck By Auto But Is Not Badly Hurt

Charles Ward of 1048 Adams street was enroute west on Arlington avenue Tuesday at Winslow avenue, when a man named Joseph Cwyner, aged 42 of 721 Arlington avenue, stepped from the curb on the north side of Arlington avenue directly in front of his machine.

Mr. Cwyner was struck by the side of the car and knocked to the ground. A passerby and Mr. Ward picked him up and took him to the New Castle hospital, where a physician was called. He was found to have sustained a bruise on the back of the head and on his shin, but no indications of serious injury were found by the examining physician.

Pittsburgh Police Seeking Firebug

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 12.—Police and firemen today are investigating the activities of an alleged firebug in an effort to discover who has set fire to three garages in the Brookline district here in the past few days.

Incendiarism was suspected last night when a garage and storehouse caught fire and firemen reported evidence of gasoline having been sprinkled about the buildings. Later a woman in the neighborhood reported that she had seen a man pile rubbish against one of the garages, set fire to it and run away.

Maurice Costello Sued For $100,000 In Promise Breach

Mlle. Vivienne Sengler, Files Breach Of Promise Suit Against Movie Star

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11.—Accusing Maurice Costello, veteran screen actor of failing to keep a promise to marry her, Mlle. Vivienne Sengler today had on file a $100,000 breach of promise suit.

Costello who was divorced from his wife in 1927 is the father of Dolores and Helene Costello, film actresses.

While Costello admitted that he met Miss Sengler and her mother while playing vaudeville in San Francisco, he denied that he ever asked her to marry.

"Yes, I took her to dinner several times but as for proposing marriage that's all bosh," Costello asserted. Costello declared that if he was served with papers in the breach of promise suit, he would file an answer, denying all of her allegations.

Congressman And Six Others Indicted For Defrauding By Mail

Congressman Zihlman Of Maryland And Six Other Officials Held In Defraud Cases

Defendants Charged With Organizing Several Corporations With Very Little Capital

(International News Service) WASHINGTON Dec. 11.—Indicted by the federal grand jury on charges of using the mails to defraud, Rep. Frederick N. Zihlman (R) Maryland and six officials of the F. H. Smith Co., brokers arranged their bond today pending trial. The company moved its headquarters to New York two weeks ago and until ten days ago the congressman was one of the directors. He resigned so he could retain his post as chairman of the house district committee.

The officials indicted are Daniel R. Crissinger, former comptroller of the currency, a director of the company; G. Bryan Pitts, chairman of the board; Samuel J. Henry, president; C. Elbert Anadale, secretary; John H. Edwards, Jr., vice president and Henry C. Maddux of the Hamilton Hotel Co.

Charged With Fraud. The indictment said they "did devise and intend to devise a scheme and artifice to defraud by means of false and fraudulent pretense, representations and promises" a number of persons in Washington and other states "to send and pay their money and part with their property to the defendants." The alleged violation covered the period from Jan. 1, 1928, to Oct. 15, last.

The defendants were charged with organizing several corporations and issuing bonds, it was alleged, far in excess of their value. The Fairfax, Inc., of Pittsburgh, with Maddux as its head, the indictment said, was one of the organizations. It acquired considerable real estate in Pittsburgh. The indictment specifically named the following as among those the company is alleged to have attempted to defraud: M. L. Rankin, Johnstown, Pa.; E. G. Gehman, Ephrata, Pa.; Ada Douthy, Loganton, Pa.; Emily R. Sexton, Bellevue, Pa.; Eleanor Williams, Tyrone, Pa.; Inez Fenton, Sharon, Pa.; M. A. Campbell, Excelsion, Pa.; Carolyn L. Arnold, Adrian, Minn.; and Edwin J. Meyer, Reading, Pa.

The Smith company has been under congress investigation several months.

Councilmen Hear Report From Hart

Conference On Complaint About Work Of Golf Course Manager, This Morning

Because of complaint lodged with city council concerning Walter Hart, manager of the municipal golf course, as a result of a business that he is conducting on East Washington street, he appeared before an informal session of council this morning at the request of council and the complaints were gone into.

The complainants claimed that Hart was on salary for the city but that he was spending more time in his new private enterprise than he was at the golf course and in the interests of the city by whom he was paid and employed.

Mr. Hart stated that he was ready and willing to spend all the time required by the business of the city at the golf course, but that since the course was closed, and the city had not as yet determined on any improvement or remodeling of former city home, now used in part by Hart as a residence and there was nothing for him to do out there, that he had felt that it would be all right to spend some time at his new store.

He stated that even now he is spending four to five hours a day at the course beside the time that he resides there and that he did not feel disposed to sit there with folded hands, even if there was nothing to do, and had thought there could be no objection to his spending some time at his place of business.

The explanation was apparently satisfactory to city council for the present at least, although it may result in some definite regulations concerning the actions of the manager in the future.

Republicans Are Back In Saddle On Woolen Rates

Democratic-Insurgent Ranks Shattered Temporarily At Least Over Woolen Rates

INSURGENTS ARE BADLY SPLIT UP

Woolen Rates Boosted By Senate With Great Regularity, Tax Reduction On Shelf

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The ranks of the Democratic-insurgent coalition, which virtually rewrote the administration's tariff bill, were shattered in the Senate today as a result of the tariff war over the woolen schedule. Aided by a handful of Democrats and insurgents, the regular Republicans wrote their own woolen rates into the bill sharply increasing the duties in existing law as well as those approved by the house. All this occurred over the vociferous protests of other members of the coalition, which successfully blocked every sharp increase in the industrial rates. On the woolen schedule, the story was entirely different.

It seemed a strange coincidence that the coalition should disintegrate on this particular schedule, since its famous ancestor—old schedule in the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill—provoked an economic war and had disastrous effects on the Republican party in the campaign of 1912. It was due however to the desire of midwestern insurgents to give the farmer, hence the sheep raiser, the greatest possible tariff protection, so long as eastern industry enjoyed high protection.

Only Temporary
Leaders of the coalition announced the losses would be but temporary and that with the woolen schedule

cut of the way the united armies of insurgents and Democrats would again control the senate. Administration leaders, however, having succeeded in shattering the opposition's ranks on the schedule, were hopeful of continuing in control.

The insurgents meanwhile were badly split. Led by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, Capper, Frazier, Hoell, Johnson, McMaster, Nye, Pine and Schall voted for the increased woolen duties. On the other hand, Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, the insurgent leader, opposed the increases, supported by Brookhart, LaFollette and Blaine.

The woolen rates meanwhile were boosted by the senate with great regularity. After adopting a 34 cents a pound basic rate, the senate adopted compensatory rates on other woolen products. The rate on carbonized noulis, for instance, was raised to 30 cents a pound, although the house had approved only 21 cents and the existing law allows 24 cents.

The tax reduction bill meanwhile was sidetracked, pending a decision of the woolen schedule. Administration leaders though were determined to call it up and pass it either Thursday or Friday.

FEW ARE FAT IN THESE DAYS

THERE'S A REASON
Have you noted how few people are now over-fat, as compared with years ago? Slender figures are the vogue. And they have brought to millions new youth and beauty, new health and vigor.
Look about you in any crowd, and you will realize that some new factor has been found. People are not starving to reduce. They are combating the cause of obesity, which usually lies in an under-active gland. Modern science has discovered the remedy, and physicians the world over now employ it.

A famous medical laboratory embodies the method in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. So countless people now reduce in this right and easy way.

UNION HIGH GETS SOUVENIR OF OLD WHITE HOUSE TIMBER

Prof. Roy P. Conway, principal of the Union Township high school has just obtained from the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, Washington, D. C., an interesting souvenir of historical interest in the form of a block of wood made from the timbers of the wooden trusses which were removed from the roof of the White House when it was remodelled two years ago.

The truss was one of those removed from the roof of the White House in the renovation of the mansion now being completed. After literally holding the roof over the heads of the president of the United States for the past 112 years, these trusses are in excellent condition as far as the wood is concerned, and a half section of the one will be preserved not only for its historical association but as an example of the remarkable durability of the wood. Twenty-six presidents have lived in the White House since the trusses were first placed.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Plan For Christmas Program At Class Meeting Tuesday

Loyal Worker Class Meets; Other News Notes Of The Seventh Ward

Mrs. Harry Boyd was pleasing hostess to the members of the Loyal Workers class of the Madison avenue Christian church in her home on Crawford avenue Tuesday evening. Eleven members were present and Mr. Boyd was a guest at the meeting. J. F. Edmunds is teacher of the class.

During the evening there was a business meeting at which plans were discussed for the church Christmas program, this class being in charge of the arrangements. The program will be a Christmas pageant and miscellaneous program.

The pageant to be given is "The Christmas Quest." Committee chairman appointed were Mrs. E. M. Jones, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Harry Boyd, chairman of the decorating committee; Mrs. C. H. Clark, chairman of the music. The program will be given in the church on Sunday evening December 22.

Following the program there was a social hour spent in chat. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. H. Rafferty. Christmas decorations were carried out in serving.

Presents Recital Monday Evening
Music lovers of this city will be interested in hearing of the organ recital given by Julian R. Williams, former choirmaster of Trinity Episcopal church of this city in St. Stephen's church of Sewickley, Pa., of which he is now the organist and choirmaster on Monday evening of this week.

Among the numbers played were two works of Garth Edmundson organist of the First Baptist church of this city. The works of Mr. Edmundson presented by Mr. Williams were "Cantilena" and "Carillon" from "Minature Suite." The audience included many prominent organists of Western Pennsylvania and they were enthusiastic in their comment on the works of Mr. Edmundson as presented by Mr. Williams.

Credit Exchange To Hold Election

No Fancy Ornamental Lights For New Buildings At Keystone State Capital

(From News Bureau, State Capital)

HARRISBURG Dec. 11.—State officials a quarter of a century from now will not discover in one of the way places tons of abandoned light fixtures cached away from the eye as a result of the buildings being erected in Capitol Park. The chief reason is that the ornamental lighting fixtures are not to be found in any of the new buildings.

Many old timers on the Hill were startled the other day when it became known that dozens of unused and also abandoned light chandeliers had been found in the sub-basement of the capitol. These fixtures were hurried away when the capitol gratscandal broke and remained there practically untouched for years. In the newer buildings now being erected in the park the designers have not gone in for fancy lighting fixtures. The fixtures are of a more modern and practical design and it is abandoned in the future for what is then considered a better type there will be no monetary loss.

The north and south office buildings have been completed in recent years and neither one has any lighting fixtures nearly as massive as those that graced almost every office in the main capitol. Even the most elaborate chandeliers in both buildings look frail when compared with the old style fixtures.

cea for their neighbors. Like other medicines, it only agrees with certain constitutions. There are nerves which it braces and nerves which it utterly shatters."

CAUTION

Men in public life have sometimes made a lasting name for themselves and have achieved a certain greatness because they were always cautious. They accomplished few outstanding things but they made few mistakes. They thus achieved popularity and a place in the affections of the people. But the really great men of our country and all countries have not been the cautious ones. They have been men who made mistakes, men of adventure, men who took chances, men who were often wrong but men who finally achieved. Caution is a useful quality. It is far from being a great one.

ARGUMENT
Gibbon, the historian, used to say: "I never make the mistake of arguing with people for whose opinions I have no respect."

Argument is good mental exercise. It may convince no one but at least it keeps the mind in practice. But Gibbon's plan is good. Why waste time arguing with anyone whose opinions you do not respect?

JOSTLING

Probably the man who finds life the most complicated is the one who clings to the idea that he must never give offense to anybody. He feels that peace is worth the price of convictions. He will differ with nobody for fear of seeming unpleasant. This is a good rule so long as it applies to trivial matters. There are so many things that are simply not worth bickering about, not matter what your opinion. On the other hand, a man who has no convictions about important matters is not really a man at all. Says the old Carlyle, who wasn't afraid of anybody or anybody's opinion.

"No man lives without jostling and being jostled; in all ways he has to elbow himself through the world, giving and receiving offense."

Friend Is Killed In Fit Of Jealousy

SALEM, O., Dec. 11.—Christ Bazaras, 45, died in Salem City hospital here last night from gunshot wounds inflicted by George Nick. The shooting occurred on a street in Lisbon, O. Nick, who is the proprietor of a junk yard in Lisbon, claimed that Bazaras was friendly with his wife, who is the mother of eight children and an expectant mother.

Nick, after accusing Bazaras, went to his home and procured a 32-caliber revolver and upon meeting Bazaras opened fire.

The first of the five bullets in the revolver struck Bazaras in the abdomen, the next to strike him penetrated his hip. Other shots went wild. Bazaras, a bachelor, resided in a railroad bunk car at Lisbon and had been acquainted with Nick for some time, who is in the Columbia county jail awaiting arraignment.

Two Record Years

The introduction of Graham-Paige sixes and eights, two years ago, was followed by a dollar volume of sales that still stands as a new first year record for the industry. Sales for this, our second year, are substantially greater. The dealer organization, now world-wide, has tripled in these two years; manufacturing facilities more than doubled, and daily production capacity increased over four times. We shall continue to build into every motor car that bears our name the quality and value which, we believe, have contributed so much to this progress.

AS TO ADVICE

Few of us are really capable of giving sound advice. Perhaps nobody is. We are able to give advice which appears to be sound but it may not fit the case at all. There is something in most of us which makes us want to influence others, to tell others how to live their lives, what to do when to do it! As a matter of fact this is too much of an undertaking for anybody. We are prone to say, for example, when people face struggles and difficulties, that the discipline is good for them. As if we knew what is good for them! One reads from Justin McCarthy these lines: "Adversity is a medicine which people are rather fond of recommending indiscriminately as a panacea."

Controlling Floods In Mississippi Area Is Difficult Problem

Secretary Of War Patrick J. Hurley Addresses Rivers
And Harbors Commission

Will Fight For Improvements Necessary To Insure Safety In Big River Valley

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Controlling floods in the Mississippi Valley is one of the most difficult problems that confronts any body of engineers, Patrick J. Hurley told the 23rd convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, Tuesday in his first address as secretary of war.

He said after intense study and careful investigation, plans had been developed and presented to congress.

"Some of the details of this plan have fallen into the field of controversy to such an extent as to demand a thorough reconsideration, which is now being given them," Hurley said. "I expect that soon all uncertainties will be cleared and the whole of the work will proceed with vigor and dispatch."

He summarized President Hoover's waterway policy as follows:

Improvement and modernization of waterways to aid farms and industries.

Completion of the entire Mississippi system within the next five years.

Completion within 10 years of the Intercoastal Waterway program.

Expedition of the flood control work on the lower Mississippi.

Continued development of harbors and the littoral waterways which extend inland from them.

Hurley pointed out that the development of water transportation will increase railroad transportation.

Economic Program
"Waterway development is a part of an economic program designed to promote happiness and prosperity for all the people in every part of the Nation," he said.

Discussing present inland waterway facilities, Hurley said:

"The Illinois waterway, now under construction, will furnish a 9 foot channel from Chicago to the Mississippi system and thence to tidewater, and by the provision of a deep water channel by way of the St. Lawrence River, if that route is finally agreed upon, we shall transform in effect every great lake port into an ocean port, to the immense advantage of all the great mid-west territory.

"The Mississippi system, 9,000 miles in all, serves the very heart of our country. It includes the recently completed Ohio project, the Cumberland and Tennessee Rivers, the Arkansas, the Red and the White rivers, the Illinois river, many other rivers and stream, and Illinois waterway just mentioned, and that challenge to waterway development, the Missouri. Co-ordinate with this magnificent system is the Atlantic intracoastal waterway.

"When it is completed we shall possess a barge route from Boston to Miami, and the Gulf intracoastal waterway extending from Texas to Florida will serve the Hinterland of the gulf states, and both of these systems will be connected with the Mississippi."

NEW BEDFORD

A very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent Friday evening at the home of John Anderson by a group of young people. Those present were Dorothy Meek, Mabel Harry, Mabel Kegarise, Elizabeth Bell, George Wortman, Margaret and Jean Rogers, Ellen McClean, Ruth Paden, Margaret Anderson, Betty Boyd, John Anderson, John Kegarise, Herbert and Ralph Boyd, William Hove, Wylie Wallace, Edwin Harry, David Wortman and Robert Hove. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyne Boyd, Mr. Edward Shaeffer, Mrs. Anne Shields, Mrs. Henry Wetzel, Mrs. Ellis Harry, Visitors were Mrs. Jean Boyd, Jack and Dick Boyd, Mable Wetzel, Ellis Harry.

Marie Harry and Martha McMurry of Westminster College spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harry and family.

Mrs. E. R. Lowry of Youngstown spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Shields.

Word has been received here of the sudden death of J. E. Walker at his home in Florida. Mr. Walker was born and raised one mile from here on the farm now owned by Frank Phillips. Was also a former school teacher in our village. Burial was held at Orlando, Florida.

The young peoples monthly conference of Pulaski district was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Ellen McClean.

Mrs. Remer McCarthy of Youngstown spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Ellen Coulter and Mrs. Mary Hood.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Garman of West Middlesex spent the week end with Mrs. Edith Davis.

Mrs. Ellis Harry, Mabel Harry, Mrs. Blanche Black, Mrs. Lynda Carlisle and Mrs. Elmer Frock were Youngstown visitors Saturday.

Orrie Anderson of Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reese and daughter and Mrs. Samuel Reese of Youngstown called on Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cover Monday.

Mrs. Charles Morehouse, Mrs. Robert Ruby, Melvin Morehouse and Harry Ruby were recent visitors at Cleveland.

"Young people are going to the devil" really means: "I'm afraid they won't turn out as well as I did."

And the thing that makes some residents of Easy Street scorn the sharp practice of climbers is a poor memory.

ENJOYS BETTER HEALTH, DUE TO NEW MEDICINE

New Castle Lady's Long-Standing Ailments Yielded To Famous Ten Herbs

Ten Herbs, the famous new medicine with the ten wonderful herbal ingredients, is proving a blessing to thousands of men and women throughout this section. It is helping many who have never been helped by any other medicine. If you are weak, nervous and underweight; if appetite is lagging and you lack ambition; if there is stomach distress after eating, biliousness, aches and pains, frequent rising at night on account of weak kidneys; or constipation, you had better take Ten Herbs and feel well again. Ten Herbs is a remarkable medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. No wonder there is such a great demand for Ten Herbs at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where this highly successful preparation is being introduced.

"Ten Herbs relieved my health troubles in a very satisfactory way, and I consider it a wonderful tonic," was the recent statement of Mrs. Mary Burnette, 17 North Cedar Street, New Castle. "Before taking your medicine, I had spent many hundreds of dollars the last few years trying to get help. I suffered from stomach trouble. Everything I ate seemed to fill me with gas—at times I felt as though I might vomit. My nerves were so unstrung that the least noise would startle me. Nervousness made me feel irritable—nothing seemed to be right. There were pains all over my body, and I had terrible headaches. I was also troubled with constipation."

"After reading about Ten Herbs in the paper, I started using your medicine. It put an end to my stomach trouble, and improved my appetite. I was no longer troubled with gas or bloating. My nerves got in a good condition, and my liver was benefited. My weight increased from 90 to 112 pounds. I will praise Ten Herbs in the future as I have in the past."

If skeptical people—men and women—who have tried many medicines for their health troubles without getting relief—only know the thrill of perfect health that Ten Herbs has given hundreds and hundreds of sufferers of this city, they would no longer hesitate to give this compound a fair trial.

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold at all drug and medicine stores throughout this entire section.

Small Bank Is Robbed By Two Thugs Tuesday

Bank At Seven Valleys Near York, Pa., Visited By Thugs; Get About $12,000 Loot

(International News Service)
YORK, Pa., Dec. 11.—Two armed but unmasked bandits Tuesday held up and robbed the Seven Valleys National Bank at Seven Valleys, south of here, of between $10,000 and $12,000 in currency and escaped after backing Walter Rudusill, the cashier, into the bank vault and slamming the door upon him.

The men appeared at the bank about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday. One of the bandits asked Rudusill, who was alone in the bank, to change a 50-cent piece. Rudusill turned to his cash drawer to make change and when he turned around again he was confronted with a pistol in the hands of one of the men.

The men then forced Rudusill into the vault and closed the door on the imprisoned cashier. After scooping up all the currency in sight and disregarding several hundred dollars in specie, the men sped away in a Chrysler sedan bearing license plates R-41391.

Paul Davis, teacher of the Seven Valleys school, directly across the street from the bank, ran out into the street as the bandits made their getaway and jotted down the number of the license plates. State police checked up and voiced the belief that the plates were stolen from H. D. Ament of Washington borough, R. D.

Make This Christmas Easy with a Waterman's

Easy to give... easy to take... easy to look at, if it's a Waterman's. For Waterman's long experience and particular handwrought craftsmanship are responsible for making the Waterman's pen the finest writing instrument ever made. It has in addition been styled to the times. The Waterman's Gift Family includes this year:

A Calendar Desk Set—the perpetual kind of calendar, with two Waterman's Fountain Pens... as perpetual in performance as the calendar. A useful gift to any busy executive. Many styles of desk sets from $7.50 up.

Give a Waterman's No. 7 at $7—This is the famous pen with seven types of points... each point keyed to a certain character of handwriting. One of these seven points will suit you to perfection. And in order to tell precisely the one that is yours, we invite you to experiment with all. This famous Number 7 with an automatic Pencil, attractively boxed, is $10. (Pen, $7, pencil, $3.)

A Pen and Pencil Set—The two-tone Waterman's set—gay pen and matching pencil tucked in a "Treasure Chest" case for $5.50. (Pen, $4, pencil, $1.50.)

Every Waterman's is guaranteed forever against defects—Service Stations are maintained at the addresses below for the purpose of making good our guarantee and for servicing our pens as required.

Needless Suffering

The next time a headache makes you stay at home—

Or some other ache or pain prevents your keeping an engagement—

Remember Bayer Aspirin! For there is scarcely any pain it cannot relieve, and relieve promptly.

These tablets give real relief, or millions would not continue to take them. They are quite harmless, or the medical profession would not constantly prescribe them.

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. To colds that might so easily be checked; to neuritis, neuralgia; to those pains peculiar to women; or any suffering for which Bayer Aspirin is such an effective antidote.

For your own protection, buy the genuine. Bayer is safe. It's always the same. It never depresses the heart, so use it as often as needed; but the cause of any pain can be treated only by a doctor.

High Power Beer Causes Verdict

Bottle Which Blew Up In Court Results In Guilty Verdict

OTHER CASES IN COURT SESSION

When that bottle of beer exploded in court room number two on Tuesday morning, it seems that the defense of Frances Boron of Wayne township literally "blew up". The beer was a part of the commonwealth's case against the lady for possession of liquor and seemed to convince the jury in a short time after it filed out the verdict of "guilty" was returned. She was found not guilty on the charge of selling liquor.

In court room number one the case against J. A. Moore, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, went to the jury at four fifteen. At the same time the case against Charles G. Florence, charged with possession of liquor, went to the jury. Court adjourned for the day, immediately after.

It was charged that Moore had been driving a car while under the influence of liquor and that while so doing, had collided with the car of William H. Dunlap, Jr. Dr. W. C. Burchfield, and Officers Logan, Young, Nelson and Greer and Constable Leslie testified that the man was visibly under the influence. In his defense Moore called a number of witnesses who said that they had never seen him take a drink.

Neighborhood House Monthly Meeting

Reports Of Various Classes Is Given By Welfare Worker

At the monthly meeting held in the Neighborhood House yesterday afternoon, Mrs. T. W. Phillips presided. Reports were given by Miss Mollie Davis, treasurer, and Miss Christine Butler, welfare worker.

Miss Butler reports 50 calls made and 821 books in the book exchange. A new club has been formed, the Loyal Temperance Legion, with an enrollment of 45 at the initial meeting. Mrs. Wilkins, county superintendent of the W. C. T. U. Loyal Temperance Legion, assisted by Mrs. M. R. Newberry and Mrs. W. C. Stuart, launched the club. The beginners sewing class has an enrollment of 60 with 61 in the embroidery circle; the girls' Bible class has 23 members with Mrs. Floyd Childs as teacher. They will appear in a program next Tuesday evening at the Rescue Mission.

The Girl Reserves will enjoy a joint party at the Y. W. C. A. next Wednesday. The boys club is a successful affair, there being about 80 boys present at every meeting.

Plans are under way for a number of Christmas parties at the house during the holiday weeks.

Polish Children Will Sing Friday

Several Polish song numbers will be sung by Polish children from the St. Phillips and James church, Friday night, at the Christmas lighting ceremonies. The children will be led by Miss Mary Dutkiewicz, organist of the church.

The children are particularly good singers and it is expected that this will be quite a feature of the evening's entertainment. The program begins at 7:30.

Negro And Wife Held As Slayers Of Federal Agent

Prohibition Agents Greeted By Rain Of Bullets In Raid, One Killed, Another Wounded

(International News Service) CUSHING, Okla., Dec. 11.—Authorities today are holding John Young, a negro and his wife in connection with a liquor raid yesterday in the negro section of Cushing, Okla., in which Otto P. Butler, 35, a government prohibition agent was killed and George Danhour, another prohibition agent, was seriously wounded.

Both men were stationed at Enid, Okla., and had gone to Cushing to make several raids.

Butler was shot to death and Danhour was wounded in the right shoulder by bullets which Danhour said were fired by John Young and his wife. The shots which killed Butler were said to have been fired by the negro's wife.

WOMAN HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Ina Alston of 116 West Long avenue, arrested last Saturday by Constables Ellison and Mescal and state police officers when half a gallon of liquor was found in her place by the officers, was on Tuesday given a hearing before Alderman William E. Marshall on a charge of violating the Snyder act. She was held for court and in default of $1,500 bail is being held in the county jail pending the trial of her case.

Cruelly Charged In Divorce Case

Mrs. Florence Jeannette Thompson has filed an application for divorce at the prothonotary's office against her husband, John Clarence Thompson, on the grounds of cruel treatment. They were married in March, 1921 and lived together until November, 1929.

Stormy Weather Delays Ships On Way To New York

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The stormy weather raging over the Atlantic today continued to delay the big passenger ships bound for New York. The North German Lloyd liner Bremen, the French liner France and the Cunarder Berengaria will all arrive on Friday according to radio reports received here.

The Hamburg-Alliance liner Reunance and the American Banker due more than two days ago were to arrive today.

Shortley Tells Of Work Done At Veterans Bureau

Regional Manager Advises Veterans On Steps Necessary To Present Claims

SPEAKS TO LEGION MEMBERS LAST NIGHT

Regional Manager M. J. Shortley of the U. S. Veterans Bureau at Pittsburgh, spoke to members of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, in connection with their regular meeting in the post rooms last evening.

Mr. Shortley spoke in a general way on the work of the Veterans Bureau and the steps necessary in presenting claims. He warned against delay in applying for adjusted compensation, the time limit for filing claims being January 1, 1930.

Mr. Shortley stated that over a million veterans had neglected to make application for their Adjusted Service Certificates and all those who have not applied by January 1, 1930 will be out of luck.

He also called attention to the fact that government insurance is available to all veterans in good health. Over four and a half million soldiers carried this insurance during the war while now but a half million have policies in force.

Neglect of veterans to provide for their families in case of death is brought to the attention of the Veterans Bureau every day as death claims are filed. The majority of veterans have not provided enough to pay their funeral expenses, Mr. Shortley stated.

He explained that all veterans of the World War as well as veterans of other wars are entitled to hospitalization providing they can produce evidence from their physician that the same is needed and that a bed is available.

This feature includes tonsil and appendicitis operations, treatment for sinus afflictions and similar ailments. He stated that the Pittsburgh Veterans Bureau has been fortunate in being able to provide beds for patients in the past and veterans have received prompt treatment when it was found necessary.

Reports of various committees were heard at the business session preceding Mr. Shortley's talk. The relief committee reported that welfare work done by the organization during the month of November totaled far more than one-twelfth of the year's receipts.

Discussion of providing a $5 initiation fee for prospective members of the post was discussed and the post voted to keep the charter open until March 1, 1930 after which an initiation fee of $5 will be charged all veterans desiring affiliation with the local American Legion.

Major Guy Wadlinger, chairman of the membership committee, told of plans which are being made for an extensive membership drive, many of the teams being at work already.

Bed Clothing Is Needed By Societies

According to the heads of local charitable organizations there has never been such a demand for bed clothing as at the present time.

Two local families were recently burned out, losing practically all their possessions. There are little children in both families, and all are in need of blankets and bedding.

New Castle citizens who have blankets or bed clothing which they are willing to contribute, can leave word with Secretary Charles E. Allen of the Red Cross, Ensign Thomson of the Salvation Army, or Ben Watkins, superintendent of the New Castle Mission, and the same will be promptly called for.

Vets Auxiliary Plans For Party

Plans are being made for a big gathering at the Legion Home Association building on Thursday evening, December 19, by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. They will hold a card party on that evening for all veterans and their wives.

A number of delegations are expected from surrounding auxiliaries, and a fine program is being worked out for the evening, arrangements being in charge of Mrs. Flossie Potter, chairman.

MALE QUARTETTE MEMBERS NAMED

Westminster Quartette Is Selected By Prof. A. B. Davis, For Season

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 11.

Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the college of music at Westminster, has announced the Westminster male quartet for the year. After a series of tryouts for the honor of being a member of the varsity four, Professor Davis selected Homer Dishong, Johnstown, first tenor; James Blackwood, Cleveland, O., second tenor; William McMunn, Oakdale, baritone, and William Frack, Unity, bass. Louis Perkins, Sharon, is accompanist.

The excellent programs offered last year by the male quartet were much in demand. The men sang last year in Sharon, New Castle and Pittsburgh with a number of banquets and meetings, and on two occasions broadcast programs from WLBW at Oil City. Regular practices are being held under direction of Professor Davis. The quartet will make its first appearance shortly before the Christmas recess.

In all probability the male quartet will visit many high schools during the winter and, together with the string quartet, will present chapel and assembly programs. A number of luncheon clubs and music clubs in nearby towns and cities have also requested dates.

Man Wanted For Forgery Surrenders

BUTLER, Pa. Dec. 11.—The visit of Elmer Crawford, 24, of Bruin to the Butler county jail, where he announced that he had been wanted by county officers since September 14 on forgery charges, is responsible for his being held by Alderman Carl G. Phillips for action by the higher court.

Crawford went to the jail to see his alleged partner in the check forgeries, Flossie Wimer, 26, of Karns City, who has been held in the jail until Crawford could be arrested. The woman is charged with forging the names of Charles Delvin, Bruin oil man, to checks, and they were passed by Crawford.

Mother Of Ellwood Woman Is Dead

BUTLER, Pa. Dec. 11.—When S. M. McAnallen of Clay township, was serving on the jury at the Butler county court house yesterday, he was informed that his wife, Mrs. Margaret McAnallen, 65, had died in the home. She had been in poor health for a number of years. Besides her husband, Mrs. McAnallen is survived by three sons, Martin A., Paul J. and Mack all of Washington, D. C., a daughter, Mrs. Beleria Stoner of Ellwood City, two brothers Joseph C. Thompson of Beaver Falls and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kissic of Homewood and Mrs. Mary Thompson of Freedom.

Men Drag Buck Over Five Miles

Merle Glitch, of 202 South Walnut street, has returned home from a hunting trip in Forest county. He brought down an eight point buck, which he and a friend had to drag five miles to the place they were staying. The buck weighed about 185 pounds.

A companion who was along, named Jones, bagged a six point buck.

Family Has Record In Deer Killing

GREENVILLE, Pa., Dec. 11.—With a record of 19 deer killed in four years, the George Stull family is believed to have set a record for this vicinity.

It includes Mr. Stull and his four sons, Arnold, Raymond, Wilford and Roy. Each of them shot a deer this year. Last year, they accounted for five does. And in 1926 and 1927 they shot four bucks each year. The father has shot his deer each of the four years.

This year, the elder Stull got a six point buck. Wilford shot a 10-point buck; Arnold a nine and Raymond an eight.

Warns Coolidge Against Taking Seat In Senate

"Friendly Warning" Given Calvin Coolidge By Senator Pat Harrison, Miss.

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—A "friendly warning" to Calvin Coolidge not to become a candidate for the Senate was uttered in the Senate Tuesday by Senator Pat Harrison (D) of Mississippi, who facetiously charged that Hoover leaders are pushing the Coolidge-for-senator movement in order to "get him out of the way" so Mr. Hoover can be re-nominated in 1932.

Paisley Named New Director

Carl E. Paisley is today a director of the local Y. M. C. A., having been elected to the board yesterday when the members convened for their regular December meeting.

Paisley will fill the post left vacant when John A. Butler took up residence at Sharon, to which place he was transferred by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

The new director is active in Y affairs.

False Rumor Swamps Auto License Bureau

HARRISBURG, Dec. 11.—Despite publication to the contrary, the bureau of motor vehicles is not issuing to National Guardsmen automobile license tags bearing the initials "NG", nor to American Legion members plates bearing the letters "AL".

Newspapers in western Pennsylvania are carrying information that all members of the American Legion, if they desire, may secure 1930 plates bearing "AL" and a numeral. These newspapers have also said that a half dozen different organizations are being favored with special plates. This is not so. Nevertheless the bureau of motor vehicles is being swamped with letters from guardsmen and legionnaires.

Tells How New And Different Medicine Put Speedy End To Stomach And Kidney Ills.

MR. CECIL DECKMAN

"What a sensation of new life putting to rest stomach and kidney troubles that had held on for years, resisting every medicine and treatment tried," said Mr. Cecil Deckman, R. F. D. No. 4, Lancaster, Pa. "Food did not taste right and even the lightest meals caused distress. I had frequent dizzy spells and bilious attacks. My entire system was run down and I was losing in weight and strength."

"By the time I had completed the second bottle of Konjola I knew I was on the right track. Thereafter the improvement was rapid. Previously I had to get up several times a night because of kidney trouble. Now that is no longer necessary. In four weeks a complete change had come over me, and I am feeling better than I ever expected to feel again."

Konjola is sold in New Castle, Pa. at Love & Megown drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Peter's Adventures

HOLES IN THE GROUND

Before Peter could wriggle out of the grass Biffer crawled in to help him and only succeeded in making a bad matter worse. It was hard enough for one to untangle himself from the matted grasses without two trying to unwind themselves. When Biffer and the boy finally did work themselves loose and crawled out of the clump they sat down upon a stone and giggled until tears came to their eyes.

"Oh boy, you did look comical all snarled up in the grasses!" cried Biffer.

"But not as funny as you looked as you lay on your back, your feet kicking in the air," replied Peter, then suddenly became sober. "I owe my foot to you. I believe I should have lost it if you had not run to my aid just when you did. I am sure some one or something was trying to drag me into that hole in the ground. Tell the truth now, Biffer, am I right or wrong? I never saw a thing, but you must have for you called someone 'Tiger'."

Biffer nudged Peter and said under his breath:

"Sh. Shut your mouth and open your eyes and you will see the fellow who attacked you!" Peter's eyes followed Biffer's pointing claw but all he noticed were several holes in the ground. Biffer went on whispering:

"Those are the doorways to the homes of the Tiger Beetles—cruel cousins of ours who lay in wait for unsuspecting peepers-by and drag them into their lairs to eat them!"

"Cannibals," cried Peter. Biffer nodded.

"Tricky cannibals, too," he whispered. "They never come out in the open and fight. They do all their wicked work under cover."

Next: "Beetle Magic."

Parking Rule Violators Numbering 250 Pay Fine To City During Month

Persons registered on the city police docket during the month of November numbered 430. The outstanding cause of most of the names appearing on the docket was that of violating the parking regulations of the city. The unusually large number of 247 persons being registered on the docket for that reason. They all paid a dollar.

The charge on which the next greatest number of persons were docketed was that of drunkenness, there being fifty-one such entries on the docket for the month of November. Visitors in disorderly houses were the next most numerous type of offenders. Disorderly conduct appears to have been one of the favorite activities of a numerous clan during the same month, there being twenty-seven persons out of the total charged with that offense.

Out of the total number arrested, 338 paid fines and costs, while but ten were committed to the county jail. Thirty-six out of a total of 430 arrested were discharged.

The various charges appearing on the police docket for the month of November are as follows: parking violations 247, traffic violations 10, speeding 5, drunkenness 51, drunk and disorderly conduct 6, disorderly conduct 27, suspicious characters 10, fighting 2, keepers of disorderly houses 7, visitors in disorderly houses 4, inmates of disorderly houses 4, driving motor vehicles while under the influence of liquor 3, arrested on warrants charging parking violations 9, violating the Snyder Act 5, vagrancy 1, drunk and begging 2, complaint of wife 1.

The disposition made of the various cases was as follows: paid fines and costs 338, committed to jail 10, discharged 36, sentence suspended 2, turned over to alderman 20, forfeits 15, cases pending 1, turned over to J. M. Dunlap, juvenile court officer 3, turned over to P. & L. E. officers 1, sent to county jail for observance 1, turned over to Carnegie police 1, sent to poor farm 1, turned over to sheriff 1.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Lady in taxicab: "You must be happy, singing like that?"

Driver: "I am, Lady. I am. This is my last trip tonight. To the garage after this."

Lady: "I suppose that's why you are so happy."

Driver: "No lady. I'm just that way, whether it's 5 a. m. or 5 p. m. I sing in the morning when I get up."

Driver: "They're two classes of people."

ple lady, the kind that talks about no employment and not working for starvation wages. Those don't work at all and they starve. Then there's the saps that work and starves too. Them's taxicab drivers. (He laughs heartily) You know I'm just a good natured big sap lady, that's what I am."

Lady in another cab: "Driver, driver, don't drive fast please!"

Driver: "It's funny lady, but I have to laugh. It's so funny for a lady to want to drive slow."

Lady: "Why?"

Driver: "Because the men want to drive slow and the ladies want me to drive as fast as the law will let me. And the men make you drive a cab right up close to the curb for them to get in so they won't get their shoes dirty. The ladies just as soon step in the snow as not. And it's funny, but men stay mad all the way home. A lady tells you what she thinks, plenty—then she's through. Men nag and nag if you drive wrong."

Lady: Pleasantly, "Is that so?"

Another driver: "Lady you're the first lady customer I've had today that didn't ask for matches. All day I hand 'em out. I bought a carton of cigarettes and they gave me a lot of matches and by night when I went home, the women customers had got 'em all!"

Lady: (coldly) "Is that so?"

Driver: "Yah, and one girl on Park Avenue I drive her a lot, buys cigarettes of me and matches too. She says, when I ask her, that she can't afford to have her fee-an-say see her smoking. Ain't that a hot one?"

The lady in the cab gave forth a frozen stare.

Silence.

Prayer In Congress

The senate met in legislative session at 10 o'clock and 30 minutes a. m. The chaplain, Rev. ZeBarney T. Phillips, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, whose mercies are renewed every morning, we thank Thee for the blessing of home and friends, for the sense of duty, for the growth of knowledge, for the grandeur of self-sacrifice, and for the manifold things that invest life with sacredness and crown it with dignity and worth.

Bestow upon us the inward gift of a heart fully cleansed and enlarged, and enlighten us with the light that illumines and constrains, which shows the way and thither turns our feet, that day by day we may perceive and know what things we ought to do, and also may have grace and power faithfully to perform the same. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Collect $1,157.15 Through Mayor's Office In Month

Income of the city during the past month as a result of the activities of the police department amounted to $1,157.15. Of this grand total, $1,102.00 was collected as fines and costs from those persons arrested during the month of November. The second largest item of revenue was that received from dance permits issued during the month. There were forty-four such permits issued and the receipts from the same was $44. The other revenue received was from electric sign inspections, for meals and telephone calls and for the payment of the cost of electric bulbs broken by boys of the city.

Big Game Hunting Topic Is Discussed By Many Men

Everywhere where men are congregated, you invariably hear the hunting topic discussed. It seems that the sportsmen in the woods for a small percentage of those interested in this sport. It is hard to visualize the crowded condition of the woods if every man who would like to hunt were able to realize his wishes.

In one group of men someone is heard to say that he wishes he could get off work a few days so he could go after some of the big game. Another would like to trade that shot gun he bought last fall for a good rifle. It would almost seem that our entire male population would be in the woods if it depended upon their wishes.

A few years ago, it was believed that sportsmanship would soon be a memory in Pennsylvania, especially for big game. The success of game preservation methods has surpassed the highest hopes of even the most optimistic sportsman.

Game preserves, along with the closed seasons and the rather strict supervision by the game wardens, have produced an increase of these animals which is amazing.

Pennsylvania, although a very populous state, has vast tracts of mountain and secluded districts which provide ranging grounds for wild life. Lawrence county contains an abundance of birds and small game but its fertile soil is so much under cultivation that it offers no retreat for the larger game. It has, however, at its elbow and within a few hours ride, game country that contributes a sizeable bag each year, of deer and bear.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Sacrifices For Child Often Vain

"Children of the best parents are sometimes the worst." So goes an old proverb.

It is a day in June. The birds are singing and the sky is blue. Down from the step of a comfortable looking home a pair of aged parents come. Dad has a basket on his arm. No songs nor sunshine in their souls; their hearts are very heavy. They are on their way with some dainties which mother had prepared for their boy, their only child. He is in the county jail of their home town. Every day they make this trip, for weeks and weeks.

The trial comes off, the good old parents go through all the agonies of such an indescribable ordeal. "To the penitentiary for fifteen years" the judge solemnly announces to the prisoner. A year later the old father dies heartbroken, and the mother lingers now to bear the grief alone.

Were they good people? The neighbors say of them: "There never was a more lovable and conscientious pair." They were praying, earnest people, devoted to each other, always looked up to as model members of their church. In his brotherhood he was acclaimed a leading preacher; in his college a choice man and teacher. Self-sacrificing souls they were who, in accordance with the Scriptural injunction, kept "themselves unspotted from the world."

With such a pair of parents in his home, with the best opportunities for education, the boy started off in business with great promise, hurried into a fine family, was blessed with children, enjoyed financial success. But finally he was known to have committed several acts of forgery.

You have been matching this one case with several others that you know. Again and again you have wondered why some children you have known, with parents that have been so good, have gone to the bow-wows. So have we all.

When we look carefully into these cases we may discover that such parents put their trust almost entirely in their own goodness being initiated by their child. When by and by they discovered such was not the case they expressed their grief and disappointment to the child. They tugged upon his heartstrings until they toughened. They put their trust in ideals of themselves and ideals which they tried to get the child to by precepts, overlooking the importance of basic habits in him, of teaching early self-control and inhibitions, of training him in specific habits of responsibility.

Self-sacrificing souls themselves, they just voluntarily gave up almost everything to the child, gratifying nearly all his wishes at almost any personal cost. They made themselves his slaves, then were puzzled at his awful disrespect for them.

As his habits of expecting to have what he wanted grew, and as his behavior became more annoying to his parents, they tried harder to appeal to him through his emotions by their admonitions to be better. He grew more hardened to their pleas, and his evil habits went on strengthening until, by and by, the gulf between his habits, attitudes and ideals, and those of his parents, was so wide that any efforts by his anxious parents to help him were in vain. In despair the child gives up. He may even learn to hate the things they held most dear and possibly to hate his parents, too.

Blessed is the child who has parents who live good lives and who do not put all their trust in their own goodness, but who see to it that the child early learns by doing to do right.

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—On Broadway when a show is said to be a "hit" it means that spectators demand at least $12.50 for the 16th row. During the sporadic periods of financial stress such as the present, the lads with the shiny tiles and white silk mufflers stage a revolt and go shopping for their seats at Joe Leblang's, for which reason formal attire on the orchestra floor doesn't always mean what The Boys call "carriage trade."

A HEROINE UNSUNG

Cathleen Healey, "The Girl With the Accents," is back in New York and is to be featured in a new and elaborate production.

Her arrival recalls the fact that several reasons ago she was understudying Alice Delaysia. She has mastered practically all the accents of the world so that when Delaysia fell ill, it was a comparatively easy matter for Cathleen to step in and do the part.

The public never knew of the impersonation, so beautiful was Miss Healey's work. Not even the sapient dramatic critics got wise, and thus the young American woman never got credit for her unusual feat in impersonating the French artist, except in the case of a few theatrical managers who were let in on the secret and who visited the theater to witness her performance.

JOLSON ANECDOTES

The recent announcement by Al Jolson that he would tour the world giving one-man concerts, has revived a flood of anecdotes dealing with this figure in the amusement world who was once almost Broadway itself.

The one-man concert idea is much to Al's liking. It enables him to give one or two performances a week and thus corral more money with less work than in the movies. His managers have always had difficulty in keeping him in harness. Frequently playing to $40,000 a week in a stage play, he has insisted upon closing his attraction merely because the weather had become a trifle warm. More than once he has shut up shop, despite the best Shubert protests, and through the months of May and June has lounged around Mazda Lane swapping gossip.

On one occasion, after loafing two months in the Shubert Alley (between the Shubert theater and the Hotel As-

Accorsi Identified As Troopers Slayer

State Trooper W. M. Brown Takes Witness Stand And Says Accorsi Fired Shot

wick, Pa., Tuesday was identified as the slayer of State Trooper John J. Downey, who was shot and killed at Acmetonia, Pa., on August 22, 1927, while dispersing a gathering of Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers.

The identification of Accorsi as the slayer of the state policeman was made by Private W. M. Brown, a member of troop B, which was stationed at Harmarville, near Acmetonia, in 1927. Brown, who took the stand for the commonwealth, named Accorsi without hesitating when he was asked who was the man who fired the three shots that ended the life of Downey.

Anyway the special session got the dirty linen washed.

Publishers See No Cause For $5 A Ton Increase In Newsprint Price

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The board of directors and newsprint committee has decided to inform Canadian manufacturers that its members see no cause for an increase from $55 to $60 per ton in the price of newsprint.

A resolution was passed at the association's special convention authorizing association officials to take the matter up with the federal government, alleging manufacturers had entered into a combine.

Adolph Ochs, publisher of The New York Times, which owns half interest in a Canadian paper mill, declared his belief that $50.20 per ton was a fair price for newsprint.

American capital may be diverted into other fields than Canada if the manufacturers persist in plans to increase the price, John H. Fahey, publisher of The Worcester, Mass., Post said.

Steve Garlich On Trial For Markota Murder

Work Of Selecting Jury Taken Up Before Judge Chambers This Morning

JURORS EXAMINED REGARDING CASE

Steve Garlich of Carbon was placed on trial in Lawrence county court this morning for the murder of George Markota at Carbon on the night of November 17. Markota was shot several times and died soon after in a Youngstown hospital. Garlich was arrested soon after the shooting by Constable William Edwards.

Court was adjourned in court room No. 1 this morning when the case was taken up in court room No. 2 by Judge James A. Chambers. Adjournment was for the purpose of having all jurors in court room No. 2 while the jury was being selected.

As each juror was called he was examined on his voir dire. Among the questions asked were whether or not he was a kin to the prisoner. If he or she had any scruples against capital punishment and if they were adverse to finding a verdict where the penalty would be death on partly circumstantial evidence.

On the question of circumstantial evidence most of the jurors said that it would have to be conclusive.

District Attorney-elect John Powrie is assisting on the side of the commonwealth. The other attorneys on the commonwealth side are District Attorney J. Elder Bryan, Special District Attorney Samuel Clark and Attorney James W. Rhodes.

The defense is represented by former Judge W. E. Porter and Robert L. Wallace.

Nine jurors had been secured at noon.

Editor The News:
West Pittsburg, Dec. 10, 1929.

Kindly make correction of an item in Monday's News concerning the finding of James Rice. It was Mr. Rice that notified the police that we had found him instead of them notifying us. I wish this correction made in fairness to us, who told the true story of it and then, when the paper came out, it was different and placed us in a rather awkward position. When James disappeared following dissatisfaction with his teacher, we notified the local police, but when Saturday noon came they had gotten no results. Mr. Rice and my

Universal
Electric Washer and Dryer
The Gift Ideal for MOTHER

IF YOU could but know how much work such a gift as this saves for her, you would search no further.

Here is modern home laundering equipment at its highest and latest development. There is no tedious wringing of clothes, all surplus water is extracted by a new centrifugal damp dryer, swiftly and gently; all waste water is emptied electrically, without the operator lifting a drop; the clothes are soon washed sweet and clean, and safely. In short, the UNIVERSAL Electric Washer and Dryer is a distinctly superior method of cleaning clothes, a certain means of eliminating wash-day drudgery for mother.

As a gift it will make her happy.

Ten Year Old Boy Saves Companion

Tuesday afternoon a group of boys were playing on the ice cakes in Big Run near Clifton Flats, jumping from one cake to the other when Marcus Duddy, aged 11, slipped off the cake he was on and went into the water, which was quite deep at this point. He tried to get out but falling in this he went under the ice and then appeared again. The boys on the ice became panic stricken when one of his companions, Paul Smiley, aged 10, who had been standing on the bank watching, pulled off his coat and hat and dove into the water, dragging young Duddy to safety.

RECRUITING OFFICE INSPECTED TODAY

Major J. Lindenstruth of Pittsburgh, in charge of the recruiting officers and offices of the Pittsburgh district, visited the local recruiting station, in charge of Corporal J. W. Thompson, this morning and found everything in first-class order after an inspection.

Major Lindenstruth stated that New Castle has been furnishing some exceedingly fine recruits in the past few months, they being among the best received from any place in the district.

Three Youths Jailed As Robbery Suspect

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 11.—One Canonsburg, Pa., and two Pittsburgh youths are in the county jail today following their capture by the state police after a gun battle and automobile chase from Canonsburg to Heidelberg.

Vincent Novak, 22 of Canonsburg and Raymond Bridge, 18 and Emmet

O'Hara, 21, both of Pittsburgh were captured by state police yesterday when their automobile plunged down the 20 foot embankment into Chartiers creek when the troopers shot the rear tires of the machine.

According to the police the youths have admitted their participation in several gasoline station and store robberies and holdups in the district between here and Pittsburgh.

Two Tons Of Brass Stolen Last Night

Thieves Break Into Wolfe Junk Yard Near Engineering Works

Thieves last night broke into the warehouse at the Wolfe junk yard, Moravia street, near the Pennsylv-vania Engineering Works, and stole a considerable quantity of brass.

Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Thomas Lynch today made the investigation for the police department and found that the thieves had broken the locks on the warehouse and removed the brass.

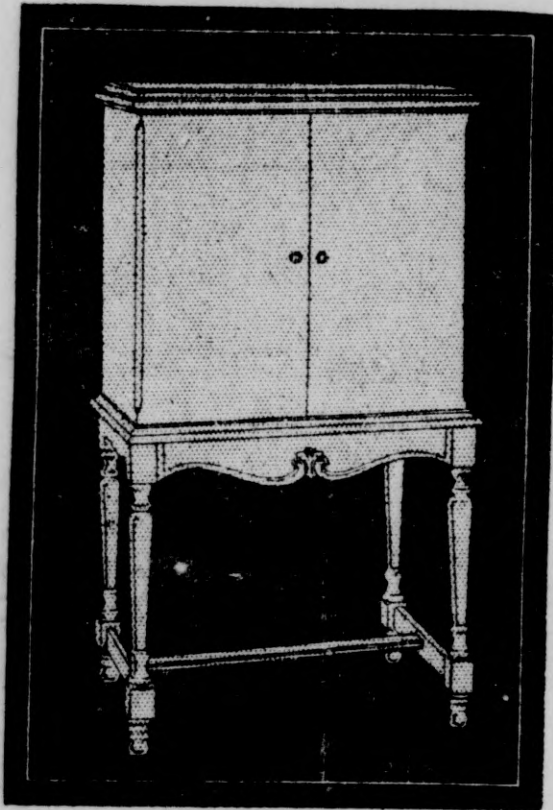

According to the proprietor, approximately two tons of the expensive metal was taken.

The Story Of The Panama Canal
Part 3—The Gold Rush Of '49

IN 1846 CAME THE MEXICAN WAR. AT ITS CLOSE, BY THE TERMS OF THE TREATY OF GUADALUPE HIDALGO (1848) THE UNITED STATES ACQUIRED CALIFORNIA AND NEW MEXICO. ABOUT THE SAME TIME AN EVENT OCCURRED WHICH WAS TO INCREASE THE DEMAND FOR A TRANS-ISTHMIAN CANAL.

JANUARY 24, 1848, GOLD WAS DISCOVERED ON THE AMERICAN RIVER IN CALIFORNIA, BUT THE NEWS DID NOT REACH THE EAST UNTIL LATE IN THE FALL. WHEN IT BECAME KNOWN, THE REPORT SPREAD LIKE WILDFIRE.

IN THE SPRING OF '49, CAME THE MAD "GOLD RUSH". WHEN MEN FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE FORSAKE THEIR HOMES AND ACCUSTOMED WORK, AND SET OUT FOR CALIFORNIA IN THE HOPE OF BECOMING MILLIONAIRES IN THE GOLD FIELDS.

THOUSANDS OF FORTUNE HUNTERS, DREADING THE DELAYS AND DANGERS OF THE LONG, WEARY OVERLAND JOURNEY ACROSS THE CONTINENT, TOOK SHIP TO PANAMA, CROSSED THE ISTHMIAN CANAL, AND ON THE PACIFIC SIDE EMBARKED IN OTHER VESSELS BOUND FOR CALIFORNIA.

High School Football Team Enjoys Banquet

Hagan-Bridenbaugh Deliver Fine Talks

New Castle High School Football Team Given Banquet And Dance At The Castleton

Rev. C. J. Williamson Is Toastmaster; Former Pitt Grid Star Principal Speaker

By "BUGS" WALTHER
As a fitting climax to a rather successful grid season, the 1929 members of the New Castle High School football team were tendered a most enjoyable banquet and dance last evening at The Castleton.

Covers were laid for 120 persons, including the football team, members of the school board, Senior High faculty members, and special guests. The occasion was one of the finest of its kind ever held in The Castleton, and one that will long be remembered by the gridgers.

A tasty, delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings, put up as only The Castleton chefs can put them up, was the first thing that awaited the boys. The dinner got under way at 6:30 o'clock. What that group of "bushies" did to steaming plates of turkey and dressing and all the other goodies was just too bad.

The eating part of the affair out of the way and with everybody completely satisfied that they had had plenty to eat, the speaking end of the program was undertaken.

Rev. Williamson as Toastmaster First Introduced L. Orth, of Senior High principal, the toastmaster of the evening. Rev. C. J. Williamson pastor of the Highland U. P. church, and anybody who thinks that ministers haven't kept sense of humor and are only dignified gentlemen have another guess coming.

Rev. Williamson proved himself as witty an after-dinner speaker and toastmaster as it has ever been the writers privilege to hear. The Reverend introduced each speaker on the program either with much elation or such as the case fitted. His many humorous stories were quite new to the gathering, much to the liking of the crowd, as so many toastmasters use practically the same thing, but Rev. Williamson mixed up his speech-making with plenty of spice and new plays, or I should say yarns.

In acknowledging his introduction Rev. Williamson said many nice things about the High School football team, and being an ardent fan and one who seldom misses a game at Franklin field, knew something of which he spoke. The spirit with which the boys played this year even in the face of defeat in three games was what pleased Williamson the most.

Ciccone-Binder Speak
Bennie Ciccone, hailed as one of the greatest centers that New Castle High has ever had, and they have had numerous good ones, was the first speaker and said that he was sorry that he is leaving and that he wished the boys next year all the success in the world. He paid a high tribute to the coaching ability of Bridenbaugh, Thomas and Klee.

George Binder who assumed the captaincy after Ciccone became ineligible this year was the next speaker and like his predecessor had a lot of nice things to say about "Bridy" Thomas and Klee, hailing them as men of real fine character and great coaches. Binder thanked the squad for the cooperation given him. He spoke of the morale and courage of the team under fire as something brilliant. "I think that New Castle did very well this year with only one veteran from last year," said Binder closing his speech.

Dr. C. C. Green Speaks
Dr. Clyde C. Green, City Superintendent of schools was the next speaker fired with enthusiasm for the football boys. They sorta crossed the "Big Shot" up by giving him a rather tricky subject "Field Goals," but he didn't stick to his subject and consequently, delivered a very fine speech.

Green handled his subject at first very delicately, being honest in his lack of field-goal knowledge. He then burst into a reminiscence of football banquets, saying that he had been attending these affairs for some 23 years. He said that never has he known such a fine group of sportsmen and sportswomen as we have in New Castle. Even in the face of defeat the students kept urging the boys to step out and make a touchdown. We are advancing with the times was one of the high spots in his speech. Although New Castle had a difficult card this year, the boys did very well and are to be congratulated for their work. He pledged full support to the athletic endeavors of the schools of New Castle.

At this stage of the game "Red" McAuley, the youth whose voice guided the boys through thick and thin this season as signal barker, surprised the gathering with two very fine solo numbers. McAuley has a pleasing tenor voice, maybe he was training his vocal chords during the grid season, anyway "Red" proved himself quite versatile. Don't be misled into believing that all quarterbacks can sing.

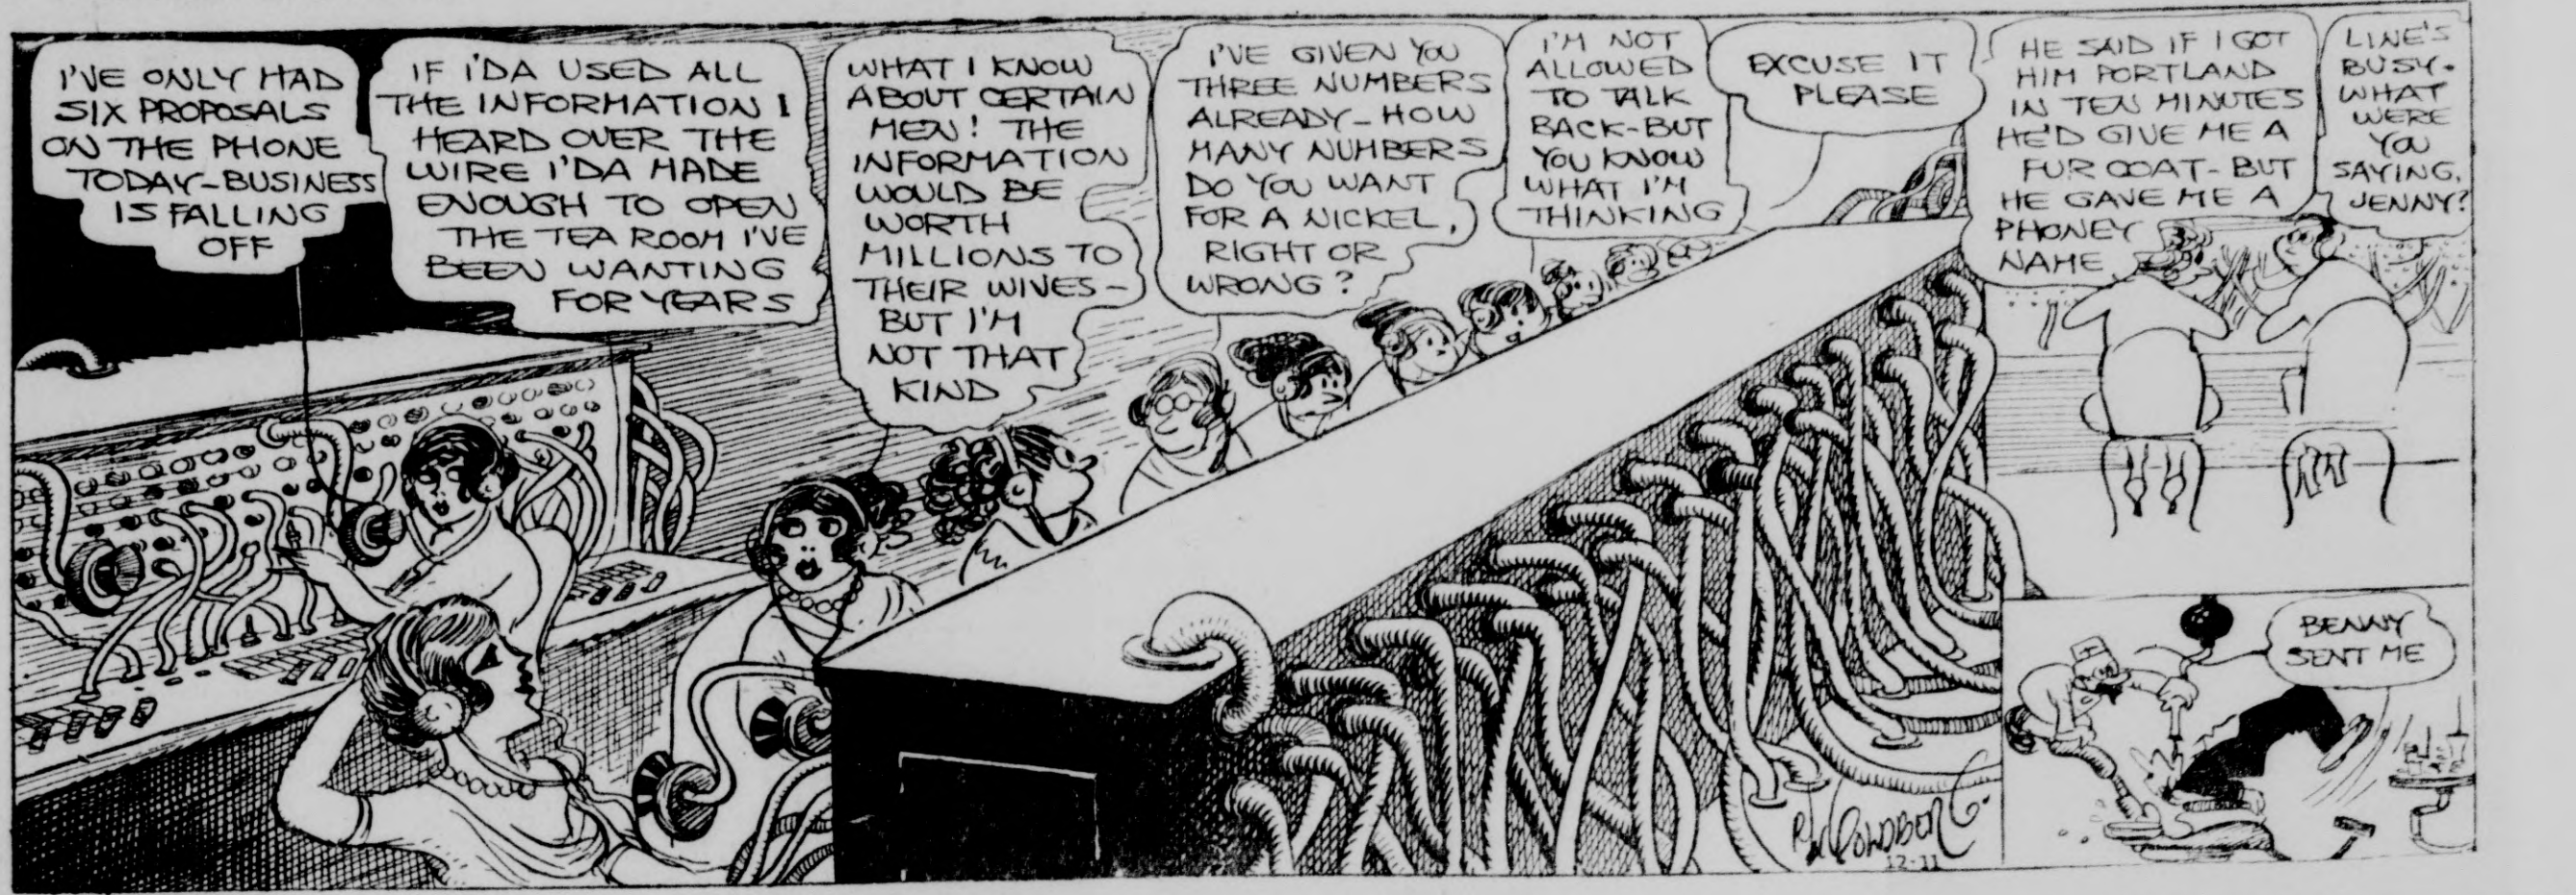

Hagan Principal Speaker
Little blond "Jimmy" Hagan, of the class of 1923 of Pitt, and a teammate of Alec Fox's and a man who ran interference for the famous All-American "Gibby" Welch, was the principal speaker of the evening.

Hagan since his athletic days at Pitt has turned into a willing worker and is now holding down the position as Assistant Athletic Director, working under Don Harrison. Right now "Jimmy" is terribly busy with all sorts of details on that trip to Pasadena that the Pitt boys are going to make for a New Year's game with the University of Southern California. But he wasn't the guest of Ralph H. Gardner and speak his little piece as the topping off of a great banquet.

Carnegie Report
"Jimmy" started his speech by saying that he was sorry he couldn't bring any All-Americans with him, but Coach Sutherland has a lot to say to the boys and couldn't spare anybody. He delved into the mysteries of the recent "Carnegie Foundation Report" that rocked the sport world with its expose of collegiate athletics. The report is some 400 or 500 pages long, and therefore, "Jimmy" (Continued On Next Page)

Kandy Kids Trim Wilkinsburg 20-12

Wampum Kandy Kids Show Good Form In Downing Wilkinsburg Juniors

The Forest Hills, Wilkinsburg Juniors took a fall before the K. K. Klub of Wampum in a game which, lacking in thrills until the beginning of the second half, when both teams opened up a furious attack. Wilkinsburg found themselves on the short end of a 20 to 12 score when the final whistle blew.

The defense of the Wampum team was marvelous and not a short shot by the Forest Hills aggregation was recorded. Boone was the shining light for the K. K. Klub, while Davies and Bissell played a bang-up game for the visitors.

Friday night the Wampum fans will be treated to a doubleheader, when the K. K. Klub opposes the West Pittsburg five and the feature game of the evening being between the Wampum Indians and the Beaver Valley All-Stars. On Tuesday, the 17th, the K. K. Klub stacks up against the Realty Trust Company, class A champs of Youngstown, on the Wampum floor.

Amherst College football players when they came to the act of electing a captain for the 1930 grid team, had two fine former Western Pennsylvania High School boys to consider for the post.

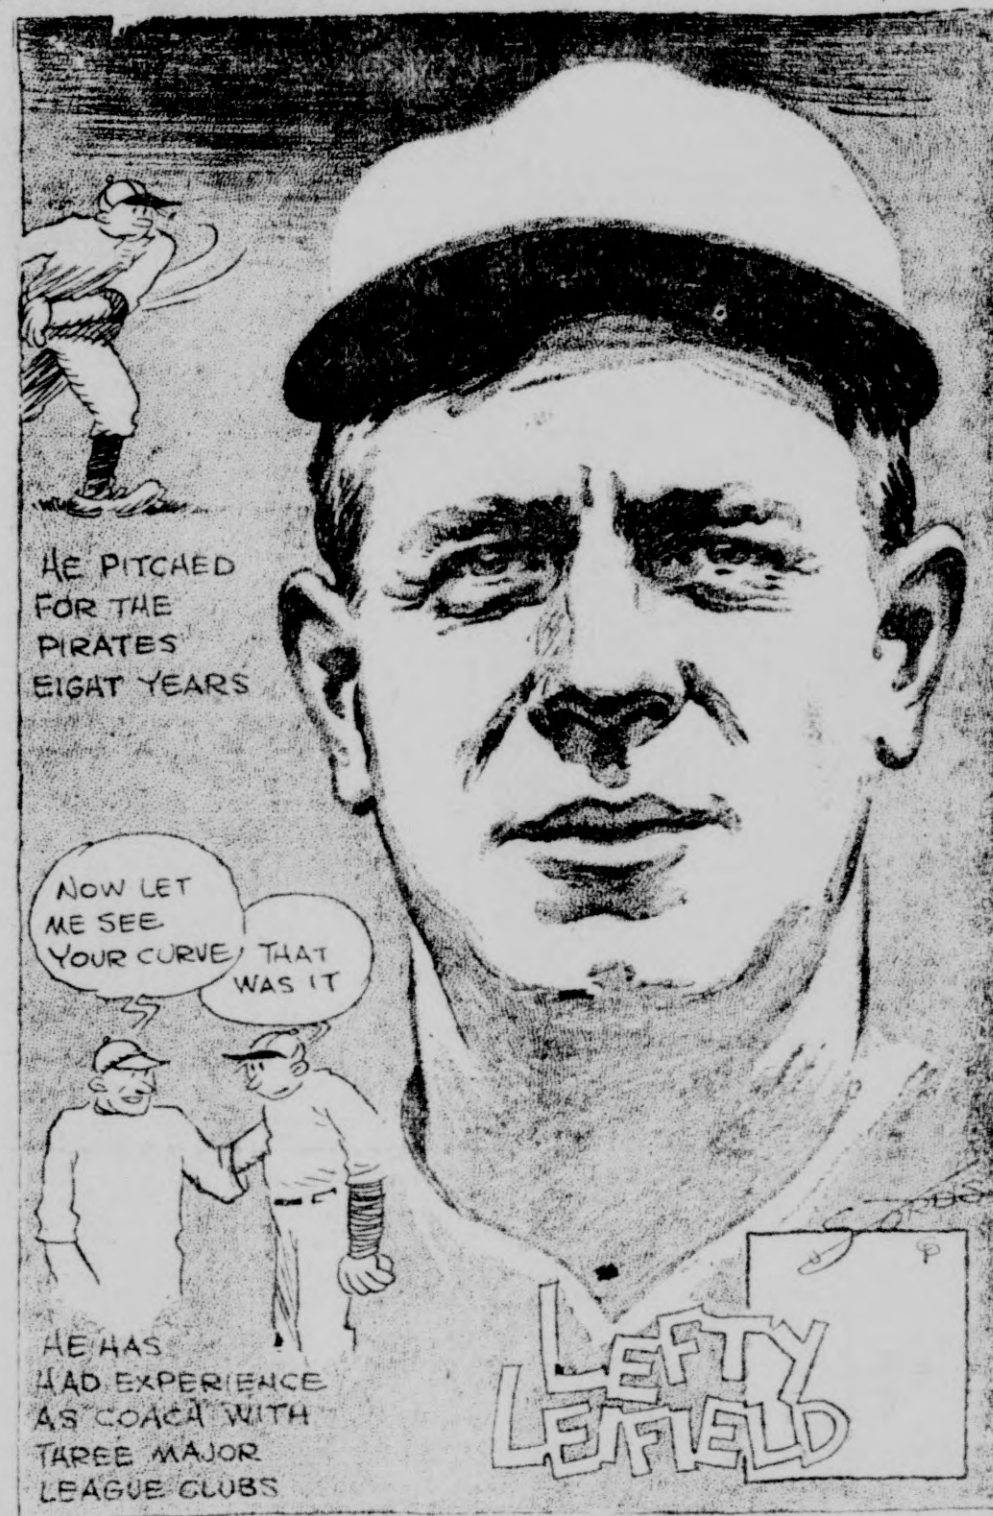

The choice fell with Hempden F. Tener of Coraopolis Heights, a nephew of former Governor Tener of the Keystone state. The other youth given serious consideration was William H. "Bill" Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Kirk, of Moody avenue this city.

Tener was an end this year on the Amherst team and was picked on the sport writers and coaches. Tener was also used as a backfield man in the final two games of the year and performed brilliantly. Kirk is a tackle, and one of the finest in the Conference.

Kirk like Tener stood out quite prominently in the play of the Amherst team, especially in the game that Amherst lost to Princeton 7 to 0, when the former New Castle boy broke through time and time again to spill the Princeton backs before they could get started. Kirk is one of the heaviest boys on the squad tipping the beams at more than 200

SORDS POINTS

Lefty Leiffield To Pilot Saints

By JACK SORDS, Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

With plenty of experience as both player and coach in the major leagues and with one season of managing a minor league club behind him, big Lefty Leiffield will attempt to pilot the St. Paul club of the American association to a pennant next year. Lefty received his first taste as a manager with the Oklahoma City team in 1929 and made things interesting for the rest of the league. He failed to win the pennant but did the next best thing.

Leiffield has served as coach with the St. Louis Browns, the Boston Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers. He became an assistant with the Browns in 1913 and when Lee Fohl took over the reins of the Red Sox, Lefty was right there with him. He was there until the close of the 1923 campaign. When George Moriarty became the manager of the Tigers one of his first acts was to sign Leiffield as coach. He stayed two years at Detroit before becoming manager of the Oklahoma City team.

Leiffield's pitching career began in 1902 with Joplin, Mo. From there he went to Alton and then to Des Moines before he became big league calibre. The Pirates signed him then and he starred with that team for eight years. In 1913 he figured in a trade with the Cubs, who released him to San Francisco the following year. From that time on Lefty bounced around in the minors until being signed by the Browns as coach in 1918.

Wise baseball men are of the opinion that Leiffield will produce results at St. Paul and that Bob Connery has finally succeeded in securing a manager who will garner an American Association pennant for him.

There was very little difference to choose from in the two candidates, but the choice fell to young Tener. Kirk will graduate at Amherst next year. Tener before going to Amherst was a Kiski Prep grid star.

Other Western Pennsylvania boys making good in athletics at Amherst are George K. Trainor, who is a member of the gold team, and A. K. Rheem of Franklin, Pa., out for basketball.

Union High Opens Season This Evening

Harlansburg Teams To Play First Game Of Season At Scotland Lane

With plenty of material, and an unusual interest, Union High school is ready to open its basketball season tonight when both the boys and the girls teams of Harlansburg High School engage the Union teams. An additional feature will be a game between the ladies faculty team of Shenango Consolidated School and the ladies faculty team of Union. The faculty game will open the evening of basketball, with the Union-Harlansburg boys game closing it.

Under the direction of Coach Boyd the boys team has been developing in a satisfactory shape for the past two weeks. Because of graduations last June, new team had to be developed and this has been done, using Critchlow and Augustyn the only letter men left as the nucleus of this year's team.

A wealth of material was present for the tryouts for this year's team and it is felt that a successful year is ahead. At the present time Critchlow, Latimer and Ceremba are fighting it out for forwards, Augustyn and White at center, Jaworski, Severa and Wallace are staging a battle for the guard positions. The remaining members of the squad are Rhyal, Matezo, Sniezek, Stockman, Davidson, Wilkins, Pietrowicz and Lanigan.

Trafton Is Next Opponent For The Great Art Shires

Chicago, Dec. 11.—Great alarm was expressed today by veteran pugilists when it was learned that C. Arthur Shires, White Sox first baseman, is to follow up his successful ring debut Monday night in a battle with George Trafton, 222-pound center for the Chicago Bears.

The ranks of the initiated cauliflowerers are seething with indignation following Shires' popular appearance against Mysterious Dan Daly in 21 seconds. Some have even suggested taking action against the interlopers.

Red Grange, Trafton's manager, arranged the bout for the White City arena where 5,000 fans gathered the other evening to see Shires in action.

THE BOOSTERS
Tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor the New Castle Boosters and the Shelby Tube Mill All-Stars will clash, following a preliminary game by the Gerson Jewelers and Lions Club team of Grove City. The first game starts at 8 o'clock.

The Boosters, coached by Arnold, "Fiz" Fraser have won three out of four starts this year and are anxious to add the Ellwoodians to the list.

The Shelby team will be followed by quite a large crowd of fans to New Castle for their meeting with the Boosters. The neighboring city quintet hopes to stop the Boosters.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES PLANS FOR COMPLETION AUDITORIUM

Completed Auditorium To Be One Of The Most Modern And Beautiful In This Section

Latest Dimming Systems In Electric Control Throughout Building, Planned

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education which took place Tuesday evening in the board room of the Lincoln school, W. G. Eckles and son were present, as architects of the Lincoln school, with plans and specifications for completing the auditorium. As set forth in these plans, the completed promises to be a beautiful one, with plush curtain across the stage, a neutral stage setting that may be used for many occasions, a dimming system controlled from one master switchboard, which will turn the lights in the main auditorium and the stage off and on gradually.

Alternate bids were set in the specifications, regarding the completion of gymnasium lockers and shower rooms with special heating arrangements, so that those quarters may be heated when the balance of the school is not. The architects specified rubber flooring in the auditorium as making the best possible base. The inner work will all be of structural steel, and very latest metal work, with safety treads on balcony stairways. The plaster will be colored before applied, making a neat wall trim. The woodwork will all be of a light tone. The heating, lighting and plumbing contracts will be let for bids in the near future, and a special meeting of council is called for January 6 to open bids. A date for the completion of the auditorium was set for May 1, with an alternate date of May 15. It is expected, however, that the building will be completed in time for the graduation exercises in June.

Regarding the clock tower, which contains four clocks which have not been keeping good time, the specifications advised an electrically driven clock, with a supervisory feature which would control the four clocks in the tower and check up on the one in the auditorium, a remarkable device. It was also suggested that the tower be lighted with reflector lights from within, making it possible to view the time at night.

Provisions are being made for the placing of a motion picture booth in the balcony, also a motion picture curtain on the stage. There is space on the stage, also below the booth, for the installation of sound equipment, should such be required later. The architects have not overlooked one detail which will make the new auditorium a thing of superb beauty and a badly needed medium for putting on local plays and entertainments, as well as high school exercises.

New Chairman.
Dr. H. E. Helling, as new chairman of the board, took his seat Tuesday night at the head of the table, with the board members arranged in alphabetical order about the table. A photo was taken of the men at the beginning of the meeting, which will be printed in the high school annual.

The board decided to send Supt. Smith and Principal Bell to the N. E. A. convention in Atlantic City February 22-27. This was decided on account of the state meeting being held in New Castle this year, and therefore no expense to the board for sending the school heads. Secretary Mattox will be sent to the secretaries and school board convention in Harrisburg in February.

Supt. Smith asked that Miss Charlotte Hawkins be elected to the position of art teacher in the schools at a salary of $1400 per year. Thursday night the pupils are presenting an operetta, "What Happened to Sally," in the gym and Supt. Smith invited the board to attend.

Teachers To Be Paid December 20

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—At the meeting of the Ellwood Board of Education last night in the Lincoln building, it was decided to pay the teachers twice this month, instead of the customary once. They will be paid one-half their salaries on December 20, giving them some money to tide them over the Christmas vacation.

Last year the entire salary was paid December 20, but as that was not so successful, and made too long a wait until next pay day, the board has decided upon the above action.

Christmas Party At Turner Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—Mrs. Jud Turner of Glenn avenue entertained the members of her Luncheon-Club Tuesday afternoon with a Christmas party.

Special guests were Mrs. Herman Wilson and Mrs. Emmet Lubendorfer. At the conclusion of a dainty menu bridge was in order and high score honors won by Mrs. Harry Parthemore, Mrs. C. D. Ross and Mrs. Wilson.

An exchange of lovely Christmas gifts was then enjoyed, concluding a pleasant meeting.

Choral Society Is Preparing For Convention Singing

Two selections are being practiced by the Choral society, and will be sung at the P. S. E. A. convention which will be held in this city in several weeks. The cantata, "Father of Waters," by Charles Winfield Cadman, which has been studied at the weekly meetings for some time, will be discontinued until after the convention.

The tentative time of the society will be used in preparation for the singing at the P. S. E. A. convention.

Ellwood High Loses Opener

Extra Five Minute Period
Needed To Settle Monaca Contest

Tubers Look Good As Season Starts

By TONY PASTA
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—An extra five minute period was required to settle a hectic intersectional contest Tuesday night when Ellwood City high basketballers traveled to Monaca to drop the opening battle by a 20 to 18 score. Lee's men took the lead but a rally staged by the opponents brought the tilt to an 18-18 count at the end of the fray. Blisan broke through to cage the winning marker.

Justine started the contest off with a pretty basket. The blue and white looked very impressive as they battled their way to lead at the quarter, 3 to 5.

As the second quarter drew to a close, Monaca hit a rallying stride and the Tubers had only one point lead, 12-11. Monaca kept the pace set by the Lee men and at the end of the third period the count was deadlocked 13-13. The nip and tuck fray was repeated with the score 18-18 as the whistle blew. Blisan lead his mates to victory by tossing in the winning tally.

King, Fanno and Rossman each tossed in two field goals, while Justine scored one. McKim caged two via the foul route while Justine and King each made one in this manner also.

Blisan was the outstanding performer for the opponents, as he sank four goals, the last one deciding the contest. Cotter collected two goals, while Fanno was very effective from the foul line as he made four out of six. Blisan's work was a brilliant piece of performance throughout the battle.

Ellwood scored seven goals, as did the winners. Monaca got an edge in foul shooting as they tossed in six out of eleven, and the blue and white secured four out of eight. Lee's lads looked very good in their first game of the season. Only two veterans appeared in the Tubers lineup, while Monaca has a veteran quintet. The Blue and White play another intersectional game Thursday night when they travel to Beaver Falls. Both Monaca and Beaver Falls appear on the local floor next week.

The girls open their season on December 19 when they play against Sharon. This will be the first double attraction of the season.

PRAYER MEETING AT SLIPPERY ROCK CHANGED
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—The weekly prayer meeting of the members of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church will take place this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Houk of Marquis St. instead of the Steele home, as was formerly announced. This change was necessitated on account of illness in the latter home.

CHRISTMAS PARTY.
ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 11.—Members of the Women's Class of the Wurttemberg U. P. church will enjoy their annual Christmas party on December 17 at the home of Mrs. George Gibbons of that place. There will be an exchange of gifts, and a general good time. The party will close with a buffet lunch.

MORAVIA STOP

Howard Houk and children and Mrs. Louise Hale of Enery visited James Hogue's Sunday.

Mrs. Sam Houk and children Harold, Helen and Geraldine spent the week-end in Princeton.

A. R. Will returned from a hunting trip to Caledonia Friday. Mr. Wick bagged an eight-point buck.

Mrs. Ethel Barton and daughter Miss Helen, who have been engaged in missionary work in Africa for the past five years, spent Friday with Mrs. Ethel Barton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Glasser of Baldwin St.

Mrs. Barton lectured at Slippery Rock Sunday morning and at Ellwood in the evening. Their present home is at Wilkinsburg.

David Houk spent the past week-end with his daughter, Mrs. George Morrow of the Youngstown ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ward visited Mr. and Mrs. George Ward of Boston avenue, New Castle, Sunday.

my" said that he could not memorize it, but he was particularly impressed with one part that said something about the money being spent to equip the football and basketball teams. The report severely criticized the amount of money being expended for the various articles worn by the athletes. Hagan was inclined to defend the present day system of sending teams to the field of battle well equipped for anything from a sock in the nose to a kick in the shins.

"Athletics at Pitt are well supported," said "Jimmy." "We have a stadium and we get fine crowds, we don't think we are charging too much for the kind of entertainment that we are giving the fans. He spoke fleetingly of the days when Yale, Harvard and Princeton, the "Big Three" had no stadiums or in fact much of anything but spirit, and when they played before crowds of 4000, or 5000 they thought that they were doing something big. Things have changed somewhat, a Yale-Harvard game today draws perhaps 85,000 people. Football is becoming more popular. The crowds are going to get larger and larger, the revenue it is true is enormous, but the cost of the upkeep is also heavy.

Pitt Inspired Team
He spoke of the Pitt-Nebraska game at Lincoln this year, how the Pitt team was inspired to lick the Cornhuskers, how Coach Sutherland had the boys keyed up to the high pitch, and how the popular Pitt mentor instructed the boys to play clean football. Pitt did play a clean game that afternoon, and the people of Lincoln were surprised at the manner in which Pitt manhandled the Nebraska favorites sans without as much as rumpiling their hair. It takes perseverance to play the grid game, and the ability to stay in there and take it, even if the going is rough.

Coach Bridenbaugh was paid a high tribute by Hagan, through the fact that he has sent four fine boys to Pitt, first Alex Fox and Phil Sargent, and now Reid and Cuba. Hagan said that Reid and Cuba have a chance to make the Pitt team next year, because they know football, they have been well trained this is quite evident.

In closing his splendid talk Hagan congratulated the team of New Castle on their record this year, and revealed that he had watched New Castle play Rayen in that second night game, and was much impressed with the way New Castle took the Youngstown team.

"Bridy" Closes Program.
Just as he has always had the last word in the dressing room at Princeton, before the big battles, so did Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh occupy the closing "spot" on the bill last night.

The "Old Fox," as the popular mentor has been called many times by his adversaries, delivered the customary Bridenbaugh speech, very forceful, to the point and not mincing any words. They gave Bridenbaugh another of those hand-made topics, "Football by Moonlight and Other Things," and he crossed them up by talking of many other things and not so much of moonlight.

Proud of Night Football.
As his opening remark Bridenbaugh said that New Castle high was very proud of its night football endeavor the first he believed in western Pennsylvania. The proposition was just a little dubious at first, but the more we came to realize the possibilities the better it got.

"I think that the boys played better football at night than they did in the daytime. The night air has something to do with that. The heat of the early September days is terrific, and saps the strength. The boys had a lot of vim and vigor in the Rayen and Allegheny games.

"Playing football at night gives the store people a chance to see the first few games and they appreciate it, I believe."

"Fine Group of Boys."
Delving into the more serious side of his speech "Bridy" said that he never worked with a finer group of boys than he had this year. The kids tried hard, they were not veterans, and couldn't be expected to click smoothly at first, but by the end of the season they were working together in fine shape.

"New Castle high football team lacked but one thing this year, and that was physical power. They were a clever bunch of boys and they gave all they had, I am confident of that."

"It was a good passing team that I had this year, they were tricky, the unexpected could be looked for any time, they were in there fighting for and courage."

Has Enjoyed Position.
"I get a big kick out of high school football. I have been coaching here for six or seven years now, and can truthfully say that I have thoroughly enjoyed it. It has been a real pleasure to work with the kind of men and boys that we have here in New Castle."

"New Castle is not lacking in spirit and that is what counts most. Why, even in that Greensburg game, when Klee and Thomas, assistant coaches, and Dr. H. E. Zerner were asked to stand and were given rousing cheers by the students present.

Following the banquet a dance was held in the ballroom of The Castleton with the high school orchestra rendering the music in snappy fashion. They also played for the assemblage during the serving of the meal.

Football Squad To Be Banqueted

Interesting Event Scheduled At Union High On The Night
Of December 19

Plans are now being completed for the banquet to be tendered the members of Union High football squad of the past season on Thursday evening, December 19 at the school building.

An effort is being made to get Coach Crum of the Allegheny College football squad. It is not yet known definitely, whether or not he will be able to attend. If he does, he will make the principal address of the evening.

At this time, letters will be awarded to those members of the squad, who are entitled to them and the captain for next year will also be announced.

Indications are that this will be one of the most successful of such events ever held at Union High.

"Kid" Chocolate Wins By Kayoe

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—"Kid Chocolate, spectacular little Cuban boxer, today had forged another link in his chain of 138 consecutive wins.

The "Kid," coming out of his corner with both fists working, knocked out Herman Silverberg in 1 minute and 12 seconds of the first round in their scheduled ten-round at the Lenox club last night. His knees buckled by the first blow of the fight, a withering right to the jaw, Silverberg crumpled to the floor under a volley of close range, savage rights and lefts to the body and head.

Low Hurley, veteran Harlem featherweight, marked his return to action with a six-round decision over Benny Salacoe in the semi-final.

Harry Wills To Fight Tonight

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Harry Wills, giant negro heavyweight, who was last seen in a New York ring more than two years ago when he was knocked out by Paulino, was scheduled to battle Andrea Gastano, Mexican heavyweight, in a ten-round bout tonight at the New York Coliseum.

Wills announced the result will determine his plans for a comeback.

NEW YORK STOCKS

High Prices Prevail In Today's Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—All sections of the stock market were inclined to higher prices this morning, with the better grade of dividend-paying industrials and rails.

The brighter outlook in the motor industry was reflected in an active demand for Chrysler, Studebaker, Packard, General Motors and other well known shares, some of which sold at the best prices on the recovery.

Strength of Chrysler was due to announcement of the purchase of 42,300 shares for the company's management trust.

Accumulation of over-night selling orders for U. S. Steel as the result of the failure of the finance committee to make any statement relative to a stock split-up carried that stock down a point or so, but no one took very seriously the rumors of a million-cutting circulated in the last week or two. Bethlehem was in demand fractionally under 100, and American Can was well bought above 124.

Sentiment Improves. Sentiment in the stock market has improved considerably in the last week as the result of the confident expressions by industrial leaders who have been in attendance at the president's conference and foresee as the result a steady expansion in business in early 1930. Investment buying of the better grade of dividend-paying industrials and rails.

The first half hour's turnover was 527,000 shares, with the ticker trailing 8 minutes.

Standard Gas, American Foreign Power and other high grade utility stocks forged ahead brilliantly in the early trading, Standard topping 131 for a new high record on the move.

General Electric was again under selling pressure. Oil stocks were irregular on reports of over-refinement of gasoline, but Standard of New Jersey was again conspicuously strong, with a rise to above 68.

Bethlehem Steel was finely pushed to 100 on a spurt of buying which easily absorbed all the stock offered below par. Hahn Department Stores rallied about 3 points to around 19 and Kolster Radio carried its spurt about a point higher.

The balance of the market was inactive and slightly reactionary in the second hour. Commodity prices also eased off slightly and money markets were unchanged with call rates quoted at 4 1-2 per cent.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Most of us have the habit of looking at things without really seeing them. Unless a thing is most obvious and unless it stands out as a sudden or distinct change, we pass it by until suddenly the accumulated effect of years is presented.

This is no attempt at philosophizing but rather comes as the result of a little roaming done yesterday up Croton avenue. You travel it constantly, no doubt, perhaps twice a week, and yet perhaps you never happened to notice what has happened to the Croton avenue side of the creek bank between the new bridge and Hiram Way. The change has been gradual, but none the less sure, and today a narrow strip of filled ground is all that separates the river from the paving.

Time was when ground between the paving and the river was wide enough for park benches. On warm summer evenings, scores of men and women seeking surcease from the heat used the benches that were strung along there and paths leading down to the river gave the youngsters opportunity to go down and wade and splash around to their heart's content.

That hasn't been so long ago, for it was true in the summer of 1919 just ten years ago. Today there is no room for benches, the paths leading to the river have gone with the ground back of them, the big trees that once shaded the benches are part way out in the river and about one more freshet will slide them clear out into the water. One of them has already settled down to the water's edge but is still living.

Barriers of logs have been put up several times and washed away and these are now standing out bare a target for the swirling waters of next spring. Once they go, and once those trees go, the citizens of Croton avenue are going to find the river under the paving of the street and the repair bill will be on all of us.

The main reason for the cutting away of the banks is the fact that the river turns at Hiram Way and the turning there throws the current into the banks with more force than at any other place. The result is constant recession of the banks with an increasing threat against the paving.

Noticed another thing up along the creek. Over on the Neshannock avenue side there are a lot of ugly sights. Papers, garbage, debris, rubbish, all piled along the sides and what should be a beauty spot has been turned into an eye sore.

It is such an easy thing to heave a lot of debris over the side of a river bank and perhaps if you and I lived along Neshannock avenue we would do the same thing. But it isn't the thing to do, now is it? Strangers coming into the city along Croton avenue get a view of it and one traveling man from another city recently remarked that he thought it funny that the city should have a public dump along a river as pretty as the Neshannock.

A lot of filling has been going on over on the Neshannock avenue side also. Gradually the fill has been built up until today the stream line in seven or eight feet out from the shore it should be. This may have some effect upon the stream action on the Croton avenue side.

Just what should be done is something outside of this column. A number of things could be done and any one of them would be helpful. But as a suggestion to Stan Treser. Some day in the near future take a walk up Croton avenue and take a look at it.

Thus far the tendency of juries serving in the Lawrence county court this term seems to be the theme of that old time bar room melody, "How Dry I Am."

Worship Period Lecture Subject

Dr. Ralph Heim Of Thiel College, Gives Fifth Lecture Here

The fifth in the series of lectures being given in St. John's Lutheran church for Sunday school leaders and workers was presented last evening by Dr. Ralph Heim of Thiel college who presented the topic "Worship in the Sunday School" to a large class of workers.

"What is Worship?" has been asked of Dr. Heim, and his answer to this was "Worship is enjoying the fellowship with God." He brought out the different elements that go to make up a worship period; music forms one of the greatest elements of worship and should be of the highest type whether hymns, instrumental or vocal. He brought out the fact that any new music should be practiced outside the worship period so that detracts from the worshipful manner; prayer during this period should not only be led by the superintendent or leader but should be participated in by the pupils, but they should be given time to prepare themselves in advance.

Devotional literature outside the Bible can also be introduced into this period if it is of a character in keeping with the church standards. The offering can safely be taken up at the worship period by bringing out the fact that it is worshipping God. Familiarity of material and variety should be made one of the elements and participation of all the pupils should be stressed. Coordination of the whole program should be carried out and things that are helpful to the whole school reviewed.

Next Tuesday evening the school will close and the subject of the lecture will be "Administrative Problems" and how to meet them. The second half of the program will be in the form of a lecture, "When Jimmy Goes to Sunday School Tomorrow."

Playlet Success At St. Andrew's

Girls' Friendly Society Present
Christmas Play In Unusual Manner

The Girls' Friendly Society of St. Andrew's Episcopal church earned their first laurels in dramatic art last night, when they produced for the delight of a large audience "The Parable of a Large Audience," the longer title of which is "To Have and To Give, or To Give and To Have." The play did much to teach the true spirit of Christmas. It was under the able direction of Miss Ann Hitchen, who is also the leader of this branch of the church, the Rev. George L. Grambs, expressed a few words of appreciation of the play and of the work the leaders are doing.

The scenes were laid in the home of Annie Slossum, a rich girl. The program was concluded with a reading by Elizabeth Allsopp, "Annie and Willie's Prayer," and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis. Mrs. Lewis is largely responsible for the organizing of the Girls' Friendly at St. Andrew's. The pastor of the church, the Rev. George L. Grambs, expressed a few words of appreciation of the play and of the work the leaders are doing.

The First Christian Church Boy Scout Troop No. 15 held its weekly meeting Tuesday evening, December 10th, in the First Christian church. Scoutmaster Sidney Smith was in charge. The meeting was opened by allegiance to the Flag and the Scout Oath.

Instructions were given in the Indian Sign Language including the Scout Oath. Instructions were also given in the making of war bonnets.

The two plays given by the Pine Tree and Silver Fox Patrols were very interesting.

Plans for a hike were made for December 14th with Senior Patrol Leader Ralph Montgomery in charge. During the hike, food will be distributed to the wild life in the surrounding country. All members, who wish to go on the hike, are requested to meet at the corner of the new bridge on Croton avenue at 9 o'clock, and also bring their own lunches.

Several interesting games were played including First Aid Base Ball. The meeting was then closed by Bugler Joe Proctor blowing taps.

The Pine Tree Patrol will hold its weekly meeting Monday evening, December 16th, at the regular meeting place on the West Side. All members are urged to be present.

State Rests Case In Accorsi Trial

Commonwealth Rests Today In Trial Of Salvatore Accorsi For Killing Of Trooper

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11.—The Commonwealth today rested its case in the trial of Salvatore Accorsi for the murder of State Trooper John J. Downey at Acmetonia, Pa., on August 22, 1927. The defense immediately opened its case, calling witnesses to show that Accorsi was not near the scene of the shooting at the time it occurred following the breaking up of a meeting of miners.

The closing witnesses for the Commonwealth included Sergeant John Tomek, of Troop A, Greensburg barracks, who with the aid of three New York detectives arrested Accorsi in New York on June 12, 1929.
